EARTHQUAKE SURVIVOR—Happy to be alive, but without any place to roll his toy truck, a little boy sits amid the rubble of his destroyed home in Santiago, Chile, today after the worst earthquake in five years shattered many towns and villages in the mountainous country yesterday. Killer Quake Rocks Chile, Breaks Dam

Toll In Hundreds, Many Missing In Large Areas

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—A massive earthquake rumbled across central Chile yesterday, shattering a dam that buried a village of 400 people under a deluge of mud and water. At lease 26 others were killed elsewhere, hundreds were injured and thousands were left homeless.

Only eight villagers were known to have escaped when the 230-foot-high dam, burst, cascading two million tons of mud and water on the copper-mining village of El Cobre, 80 miles north of Santiago. (See picture, page 2.)

Between 60 and 70 farmhouses and cottages were swept away by the torrent that thundered into the valley beneath the dam.

"It was like a gigantic wave, more than 100 feet high, made of sand, mud and water," said one survivor, Carlos Munchel.

"It came on top of us, but I managed to run to a nearby hill. When I looked over my shoulder the avalanche had passed already and then I could not see the houses any more."

President Eduardo Frei toured the stricken areas by plane and helicopter. He told newsmen that the situation was under control and praised the people for remaining calm and helping in rescue efforts.

"The situation in El Cobre is terrible," Frei said, "but it is fortunate it was confined to this small area."

Sharp after-shocks continued through the night but the only major result reported was fresh rockslides on the highways. Crews were working to clear the slides and repair road damage. All main roads were open, but detours were necessary on many.

The quake shook the 2,650-

Lockouts Legal, High Court Rules

Partial Closures Barred

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court held today that employers may resort to temporary lockouts to strengthen their bargaining position in union negotiations.

The ruling broadened an employer's right to shut down his business and lay off workers to bring pressure for reduction of union demands.

Six justices joined in the decision. Three others concurred in the finding in the case but said the court went too far in authorizing the use of the employer weapon in bargaining.

'WHIPSAW STRIKE'

In another case, the court also strengthened employer rights to use lockouts when a union tries a "whipsaw" strike aimed at one firm in a multi-employer bargaining unit.

This case involved six grocery stores in Carlsbad, N.M. The court held that the single struck employer and five other firms had a right to hire temporary replacements to work during the walkout.

The decision said this counteraction was justified to preserve the companies' united front and avoid succumbing to union divide-and-conquer tactics.

THIRD CASE

In a third major labor case, the court decided that an owner has a right to close his entire business for any reason he wishes but said he cannot shut down just part of the operation for anti-union purposes.

This 7-0 ruling involved the Darlington, S.C., Manufacturing Co., which closed its mill in 1956 after a majority of workers voted to be represented by the AFL-CIO Textile Workers Union.

The National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) found both the Darlington Co., and Deering-Milliken, Inc., guilty of an unfair labor practice. The 4th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals overruled the NLRB.

The Supreme Court sent the case back to the NLRB for further consideration and made it

$849.4 MILLION

State's Growth Program Asked

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —Gov. Edmund G. Brown, citing "explosive" population growth. Yesterday recommended a minimum $849.4 million five-year state building program, most of it for higher education.

The recommended expenditures for "minimum basic facilities" came in a report from the Department of Finance to the Joint Legislative Budget Committee and was the sixth such report since 1954.

"Only through such drastic actions as limiting enrollments at the colleges and the university or reducing the level of care of the mentally ill and mentally retarded could the mandatory classification of these projects be modified," Brown said.

Well over half the expenditures — $530.7 million — would go to the University of California and state colleges, and federal funds would augment the over-all spending plan, he said.

The governor said for the University of California, $356.2 million, plus $293.4 million in other funds should be spent over the period.

Brown's plan called for $89.8 million in state funds for basic major hospital construction projects by the Department of Mental Hygiene; $88.3 million or adult correction facilities; $53.6 million for Youth Authority schools, and $35.9 million by the Department of General Services for a number of state agencies.

Finance Director Hale Champion said in the report that population growth and modernization and replacement costs had "required a building program of magnitude unmatched by any other state."

He said population of the state was expected to rise to almost 21.2 million by July, 1969; University of California enrollment jump from 82,000 to 95,000 by 1969-70, and state college enrollment from 92,000 to 147,000 for a 60 per cent increase; mentally ill patients to drop from 29,000 to 27,000; mentally retarded to increase from 13,000 to almost 15,000; adult correctional institution population to rise from 26,000 yo 32,000; and youth school population to rise from 5,000 to 8,000.

Manhattan Welcomes Space Duo

NEW YORK (UPI)—Astronauts Virgil Grissom and John Young paraded up New York's canyon of heroes today in a rain-spattered ticker tape parade honoring their historic space voyage.

The mile-long procession up flag-bedecked lower Broadway halted at City Hall where Mayor Robert Wagner rolled out the red carpet for the nation's space twins and presented them with golden keys to the city.

The parade kicked off a day of festivities honoring the two space voyagers and other officials in the federal space agency. The motorcade continued up Manhattan's Avenue of the America's following the City Hall ceremonies to a private luncheon at the Waldorf Astoria.

Thousands of New Yorkers who followed progress of the "Molly Brown" spaceship during its three trips around earth turned out to give the astronauts and their families the traditional hero's accolade from the nation's largest city.

Vice President Hubert Humphrey accompanied Grissom, the 38-year-old crew-cut pilot and commander of the Gemini-3 spaceship, in the lead vehicle.

In the second vehicle was Young, accompanied by Mrs. Humphrey and Dr. and Mrs. Robert C. Seamans Jr. Seamans, associate director of the federal space agency, also received a gold key award from Wagner for his work in the space program.

90 Days Given In Road Deaths

A 90-day county jail sentence and three years probation were given Donald B. Still, 38, of Marinwood today by Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court for manslaughter in the Aug. 24, 1964, traffic deaths of two women.

Still, of 53 Unionstone Drive, pleaded no contest to one count of manslaughter March 8 in the deaths of Carol Florence Fay, 23, and Diana Alice Bullard, 21, both of San Francisco.

Automatic suspension of Still's driver's license was effected with his conviction. Dist. Atty. Brguce B. Bales recommended one year's suspended jail term, with 90 days to be served and three years' probation.

Marin County probation office recommended 60 days jail term and the three years probation. Judge Keating, in pronouncing sentence, said Still's previous clean driving record was taken into consideration.

Still's attorney, W. O. Weissich, told the court his client has already learned a tragic lesson and extensive jail time would serve no good purpose.

The jail term was ordered by Judge Keating to start at 7 p.m. Wednesday.

Still, driver of a car which crashed into one occupied by the two women on Redwood Highway near Marinwood overpass, still faces two damages suits—for $30,000 and $51,701.61—both alleging negligent driving.

Udall Presses Auburn Dam Funds Request

WASHINGTON (AP) — Early authorization by Congress of the $425 million Auburn Dam - Folsom South unit of the Central Valley Reclamation project in California was urged today by Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall and others.

Pointing to the project's 3.56 to 1 ratio of benefits to cost, Udall told the House reclamation subcommittee:

"In my four years as secretary of interior, this is the best major project that has come across my desk from the standpoint of economics and sound planning."

He called it a "classic multi-purpose project."

In addition to protecting the Sacramento metropolitan area against "all probable floods," Udall said it would supplement water supplies for expanding cities and for a half - million acres of agricultural lands in Sacramento and San Joaquin counties.

It also, he said, would increase water supplies in the foothill areas of Placer, Sacramento and El Dorado counties, as well as develop power needed to operate the pumps of the San Luis unit now under construction.

Navy Bombers Repeat Raid; One Downed

SAIGON (UPI)—More than 40 U.S. Navy bombers poured tons of high explosives today on a North Vietnamese radar installation near Communist China. It was the second American raid on the island base in 72 hours.

The target—Bach Long Vy (Nightingale) Island—was bombarded Friday in a raid that took American planes farther north than ever before. The island is 85 miles south of Mainland China in the Gulf of Tonkin.

One plane—an A4 Skyhawk jet—was shot down, but its pilot was rescued from the sea.

The North Vietnamese Communists claimed two U.S. planes were shot down and "many others" damaged.

The raid was the 14th against the Communist north since Feb. 7 when the United States began its policy of regular aerial assaults.

Bach Long Vy Island is about midway between the coast of North Viet Nam and the Communist Chinese island of Hainan. It is 225 miles northeast of the border between North and South Viet Nam.

Tests Still Being Made In Nicasio Creek Poisoning

Tests were still being made today to learn what exactly killed 900 young salmon in the poisoning of Nicasio Creek, but State Fish and Game Warden Albert F. Giddings hoped that results would be known tomorrow.

The case will then be sent to the district attorney. Marin County health officials, who have already warned families in the Nicasio Creek area not to use creek or well water because it has been contaminated by chemicals, are studying the possibility of filing criminal charges.

Giddings has already questioned chemist Paul Defibau who, he says, has admitted dumping a harmless dye into the creek but denies knowing how other chemicals got there.

Defibau, near whose former house empty poisonous chemical containers were found, has since moved to San Francisco. While the probe is being made, Marin Municipal Water District is supplying the area with tanked water.

Hooded Bandits Loot Plush Store

LOS ANGELES (UPI) —Detectives today pressed their search for four hooded bandits who invaded an exclusive department store, terrorized clerks and shoppers and fled with an estimated $500,000 in jewelry.

"It was just about as professional a job as we've ever had around here," said Capt. Edwin J. Jokisch, head of the Wilshire Division detectives.

No one was hurt and the gunmen fired no shots from their automatic pistols in the robbery last Saturday morning of the Laykin et Cie jewelry concession in the I. Magnin store.

MISTAKE REPEATED

S. Viet Troops Bombed

By HORST FAAS

SUI DAY, South Viet Nam (AP) — "My God! Oh my God!" the American captain said as a Skyraider screamed in to accidentally bomb troops of the 9th South Vietnamese Regiment's 1st Battalion for the second time in a month. Both attacks were on a Sunday.

Capt. Robert Duker of Burlington, Iowa, went down on his knees as he heard the plane dive, then threw himself face down on the ground as the earth heaved under the impact of the bomb explosion.

"Aloft" was the call sign of the liaison plane overhead to coordinate action between the Skyraiders and the ground troops.

Wafford's transmission was broken off as the ear-shattering explosion knocked him down. When he could continue, Wafford shouted over the radio, "Stop the Skyraiders. The bombs are falling right on us."

Branches, chunks of earth, rocks and other debris were still raining back to earth.

Everyone pressed his face in the dirt as the second Skyraider began its bombing dive. The plane did not release its bombs, apparently after having been alerted by the liaison plane.

It was not known whether the Skyraiders were from the American or Vietnamese air force, or why the bombers picked out the government troops for their target.

In the rear company, the screams of a wounded Vietnamese soldier were heard. Vietnamese soldiers usually do not cry out even when they have been badly wounded.

Duker took over the radio and called the regimental command post to report the bombing. His knees trembling, Wafford, 23, rose to his feet and then sank to a kneeling position, covering his face with trembling hands for a few moments.

"For the second time now, I never thought I would have to go through this," he sad.

Dukas and Wafford moved 60 yards to the rear, where the bomb had exploded.

In all, one man was dead and 10 seriously wounded. Many others had minor wounds.

Over the radio came word from the Air Force that nine bombs with delayed fuses had been dropped into the area earlier in the day when it was in Viet Cong hands. No one seemed to know when they were scheduled to go off.

A U.S. Army helicopter and two Vietnamese choppers evacuated the dead and seriously wounded from a clearing 500 yards from the scene of the bombing.

Two Vietnamese soldiers were hit by sniper fire as the wounded were taken out.

Four members of the battalion were killed and 15 wounded on March 1 by bombs from U.S. Air Force B57s.

Britain's Princess Royal Dies

LONDON (UPI)—Britain's Princess Royal, the gentle and retiring "Auntie May" of Queen Elizabeth II and sister of the Duke of Windsor, died yesterday of a heart attack. She was 67.

Princess Royal

Flags flew at half-staff today across the nation to mourn the death of the popular princess who collapsed while walking in the sunlit grounds of her home, Harewood House in Yorkshire, with her son, the Earl of Harewood and two grandchildren.

The one member of the British royal family most likely to be affected by the death of the princess, popularly known as Princess Mary, is Queen Elizabeth's 14-year-old daughter, Princess Anne.

If the queen follows tradition, Princess Anne will inherit the title of "Princess Royal" which has been conferred on the eldest daughters of monarchs for about 200 years.

When the Japanese drove Stillwell out of Burma, Seagrave made the long retreat to India with him.

The Japanese destroyed his hospital, but Seagrave returned in 1949 to rebuild it, designing and constructing many of the cobblestone and cement buildings himself.

ICC Supports Merger Of Pennsy, N.Y.

WASHINGTON (AP)— Merger of the Pennyslvania and New York Central railroads was recommended today by examiners for the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Strict conditions were laid down, one of which would require the two railroads to provide freight service over the lines of the New Haven Railroad.

But the examiners—contrary to expectations in the railroad industry — did not recommend that the merged Penn-Central system support the New Haven's bankrupt passenger operations "unless a plan is provided to offset the present operating deficits on a sound economic basis."

The merger, if approved by the full commission, would create a 19,631-mile system that would operate in 14 states, the District of Columbia and Canada.

It would serve most major population centers between the East Coast and the Mississippi River.

Klansmen Seek Talk With LBJ

WASHINGTO N(AP) — Two Ku Klux Klan leaders have asked for a face-to-face meeting with President Johnson following his denunciation of the organization as "hooded bigots."

There was no immediate comment from the President. A White House spokesman said the request made in a telegram sent by Georgia Grand Dragon Calvin F. Craig and Imperial Wizard Robert M. Shelton Jr. had been received and routinely referred to Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach.

Johnson attacked the Klan Friday when he announced the arrest of four Alabama members in the night-rider slaying of Viola Gregg Liuzzo, 39, of Detroit, a white civil rights worker. She was shot on a lonely stretch of highway near Selma.

The President called for a congressional investigation and warned klansmen to quit and "return to a decent society — before it is too late."

The Klan leaders said, however, they hoped to talk with the President about more than just that criticism.

This was their telegram:

"Representing the true feelings of millions of Americans, we desire personally to confer with you concerning your statement about the Ku Klux Klan, selection of Supreme Court judges, rising crime rate, obscene literature flooding America, sex perverts and Communist agents within our government.

"We feel that the President has seen left-wing leaders so many times that it is only right that he recognize the right-wing leaders also," Craig said.

Humphrey Pays Visit To Rights Victim Kin

DETROIT (UPI)—Vice President Hubert Humphrey hugged the little girl and told her father to "keep your family together and remain strong."

Humphrey was visiting the grief-stricken family of Mrs. Viola Gregg Liuzzo, the civil rights worker shot and killed on an Alabama highwy last Thursday.

The vice president saw Anthony J. Liuzzo and his five children last night in a brief but emotional five-minute visit.

"I went to pay my condolences and express sympathy to a family that has suffered great tragedy," he said. "I hope it was the normal and the nice thing to do. It was very private."

Humphrey was one of several dignitaries who paid their respects to the Liuzzos Sunday. Other mourners included Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., and Mayor Jerome Cavenagh. The Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., and Teamsters President James Hoffa were among those expected today.

Mrs. Liuzzo will be buried tomorrow after a Requiem Mass at Imaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church. In her memory, Michigan began two days of official mourning today.

A proclamation by Gov. George Romney urged "every citizen to observe this period in his own way." The people showed their feelings in many ways. Many memorial services were planned, including one by the NAACP tonight.

"Carloads of floral offerings and money have been coming in," Charles O'Brien, a family friend, said. "The flowers are from people, plain people, and the money is in ones and fives and that's just from ordinary people too."

GOLD PLATED WAR OPENS ON BOREDOM

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — "President Johnson is taking care of the poor. Well, I'm going to take care of the rich," Mrs. Carling L. Dinkler Jr., an Atlanta, Ga., socialite, said.

She says she has undertaken a personal program to alleviate the woes of having money—a new yacht club in Miami so glamorous the chrome-plated hinges are being gold plated so they won't clash with the golden plumbing.

African Leader To Visit Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP) — Maurice Yameogo, the pro-Western president of the little republic of Upper Volta in the heart of West Africa, arrives today for a state visit with President Johnson.

The red-carpet welcome for the African leader will include a state dinner tonight at the White House, with 35 American Indian dancers from 14 tribes providing entertainment. Yameogo has had a strong interest in American Indians.

The 44-year-old Yameogo and his wife were to fly to Washington by helicopter from Williamsburg, Va, They arrived in the restored colonial capital last night following a flight from Africa in a U.S. Air Force jet.

Mill Valley was named for the old sawmill built there in 1834 by John Reed, grantee of Ranch Corte de Madera del Presidio (the Ranch where wood is cut for the Presidio of San Francisco).

Two Personal Injury Suits Total $430,000

Two personal injury suits, totaling $430,000, were filed in Marin Superior Court Friday in separate mishaps.

Catherine Knowland, represented by Harold W. Jewett Jr. of Oakland, seeks $300,000 damages, plus medical expenses, for injuries allegedly received March 28, 1964, in a car crash near the Point Reyes National Seashore.

She alleges the driver, James Wells, drove negligently, causing the accident, with resulting shock and injury to her nervous system.

Robert Franklin White, 21, and his step-father, William T. Reed, both of Walnut Creek in Contra Costa County, filed suit for $125,000 damages and $4,800 medical expenses against Mr. and Mrs. George Glassick of San Francisco.

The plaintiffs allege that White, riding a motorcycle owned by Reed, on Shoreline Highway near the Panoramic Highway on June 23, 1963, was hurt in a collision with the Glassicks' car.

The defendants were negligent, the suit charges. White said he suffered a broken left arm and leg. He and Reed are represented by William H. Bissell of Millbrae, San Mateo County.

County Will Seek To Add Two To Planning Staff

Two more planners will be added to the staff of the Marin County Planning Department in fiscal 1966 if supervisors accept the recommendation of the county administrator.

Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows said today that one of the new planners will be assigned to administer the recently adopted lot split ordinance, while the other will be charged with working with cities in an effort to improve city-county cooperation in planning.

The administrator's recommendations were agreed to after a budget session Friday at which Planning Director B. D. Dobbs presented his requests.

Also recommended for the planning department was another secretary and another draftsman.

Budget sessions with department heads were held all last week and will continue through this week.

House Burglars Take Over $1,000 Loot

An estimated $1,000 in household appliances and jewelry was taken in a burglary of the home of Richard E. Goebel, 1300 Mar West Street, Tiburon, sheriff's officers reported today.

Deputies said Mrs. Goebel returned home Friday evening and discovered a front and rear door—locked on her departure—were ajar.

Taken, she said, were two television sets, a radio, silverware, four watches and a man's wedding ring.

Richard B. Schoenfeld, employee of Husky Waterproofing Co., 102 Bridge Road, Ross, told deputies that burglars entered the firm's warehouse at 2710 Redwood Highway, San Rafael, last Friday by forcing a rear door. Nothing was believed taken, however.

Harold K. Oyen, 17 Stetson Avenue, Kentfield, told deputies an unsuccessful attempt was made to force a rear sliding door of his residence sometime last week.

A carport storage room lock was forced at the apartment of Colleen Hunterman, 19 Seadrift Landing, Tiburon, she reported to deputies last Friday. Again, nothing was taken.

U.S., State Funds Plan Due Board

The Marin County Board of Supervisors tomorrow will consider applying for federal and state funds estimated at $940,000 to aid in the construction of the hall of justice wing on the Civic Center.

The meeting begins at 9 a.m. in the Civic Center, but the question of state and federal funds is not due for discussion until 3:30 p.m.

The application for funds is part of a plan to move the county schools office to the McGraw-Hill building in Corte Madera and move all county health offices to the Civic Center.

The county can get two-thirds of the construction cost for offices serving the health department from federal and state funds under the Hill-Harris Act.

Also on the board's agenda tomorrow is consideration of a request from the Novato Chamber of Commerce for a master plan of zoning around the county airport.

Supervisors will also consider the request of supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen for a rehearing of the Kentfield Master Plan regarding the extension of Wolfe Grade. The board earlier voted against extension of the road to Bon Air Bridge. Kettenhofen strongly opposed that decision.

The board will consider a hotel and motel room tax, discuss preparation for state hearings on an east-west highway (Route 17) and hear a report on proposed zoning for substandard lots of record.

Construction Resumed On Nicasio Road

Work has finally resumed on the Nicasio Road project which should have been completed in one year but stretched into two.

The delay, according to County Public Works Director Donald R. Frost, is chargeable to the State Division of Highways.

The stretch of Nicasio Road near the new county corporation yard was graded last June. Paving was to have been completed last summer. Major part of the cost was to come from the federal aid secondary road program.

When no word was received from the state for three months, inquiry elicited the information that other projects had been placed ahead of Marin's, Frost said. Finally the job went to bid last November. Ghilotti Brothers of San Rafael was low bidder at $99,507, but delayed the start of work until the end of the rainy season.

Frost said the work should be completed by the end of May.

Young Wife Hurt In Novato Crash

Mrs. Loreen Gail Edwards, 18, of 637 Mission Avenue, San Rafael, was in good condition today in Kaiser Hospital, San Francisco, with face and head cuts suffered in an accident Saturday in Novato.

Terry Box, 18, of 680 Orange Street, Novato, was treated for facial cuts at Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital.

Novato police said Mrs. Edwards was driving on Olive Avenue when her car went into the ditch in front of 625 Olive Avenue at 2:10 a.m. Saturday. Miss Box was a passenger.

Woman Choking On Steak Treated

Mildred Wallaert, 41, of Marin Town and Country Club, was treated at Kaiser Hospital in San Francisco Friday night after a piece of steak caught in her throat.

Mrs. Wallert was taken by ambulance from the Ranch House Restaurant, 726 San Anselmo Avenue, San Anselmo, to San Rafael General Hospital and transferred to the San Francisco hospital. She was discharged Saturday morning, nurses reported.

Court Hears Motions On Campbell Will

Will of restaurateur Wyman Franklin (Bob) Campbell was admitted to probate today by Judge Samuel W. Gardiner of Marin Superior Court on petition of Campbell's attorney, Seibert L. Sefton of San Francisco.

Hearing on a second matter—request for a $500 monthly allowance for an alleged illegitimate son—was continued, however, until 10 a.m. next Monday.

The will, date Jan. 10, 1947, was made known March 15 with its filing in Marin Superior Court following an earlier action by that court naming a legitimate son, Frank W. Moultrop, of Lafayette, as special administrator of the estate.

It was not immediately known what effect admission of the will to probate will have on the latter appointment. Sefton was named in the will as estate executor.

The will left everything in trust fund to Campbell's mother, Mrs. Ela Maude Campbell of Palo Alto. The allowance request, filed prior to revelation of the existing will, was made by Mary Frances Leonard, 38, of 206 Caledonia Street, Sausalito, mother of Robert James Campbell, aged 3.

Their petition declares Campbell acknowledged parenthood of Robert and has been paying $250 monthly support, plus $112.50 each month in voluntary additional aid.

Campbell, owner of Bob's Steak House in San Francisco and Bob's of Marin in Corte Madera, died at San Rafael Yacht Harbor on March 5.

QUAKE

killed an estimated 5,000 people.

Heaviest destruction in yesterday's earthquake was reported in communities just north of the capital.

At Valparaiso, Chile's second largest city and largest port 60 miles northwest of Santiago, two deaths were reported. About a third of the houses were reported destroyed or heavily damaged.

In Llay-Llay a rail and highway junction 50 miles above Santiago, almost every building was destroyed or heavily damaged.

In Nogales, 65 miles north of Santiago, families moved from their shattered homes into the streets for the night.

Devastation was also reported in the towns of San Felipe, Los Andes, La Liqua, Cabildo and Illapel, all north of the capital.

In Santiago, one person was reported killed and about 40 injured as they fled from shaking buildings.

The quake, which registered 10 on the Richter scale of 12, mile-long mountain nation from end to end, but it hit hardest in the central provinces of Aconcagua, Valparaiso, Coquimbo and Santiago, where a third of the South American nation's 7.8 million people live.

Dead and injured were reported in dozens of cities. Scores of fires broke out.

The upheaval was the worst the quake-prone nation has suffered since May 1960, when an earthquake and tidal wave sent avalanches of rocks and debris tumbling down Chile's Andean peaks.

The copper-mining village of El Cobre was a scene of despair and desolation. Minister of Mines Eduard Simian said the area was devastated, covered with water and mud up to 25 feet deep.

Hundreds of soldiers were rushed in to help search for victims but after nightfall police suspended operations until morning. They said there was so little chance of finding anyone alive, it was not worth the risk to rescue workers.

Mill Valley Car Breaks Off Pole, Darkens Area

Pacific Gas and Electric Co. reported to police at 1:41 a.m. Saturday that a car had sheared two poles in the vicinity of 123 Molino Avenue, one two and one-half feet from the ground and one 15 feet from the ground. Electricity was out in the area for about two hours. T. E. Thiess Jr., 123 Molino Avenue, told police his rock retaining wall was damaged.

Investigating, officers were told by Richard Robert Wright, 35, of 211 Helens Lane, that he had either hit a tree or a pole with his 1963 Cadillac. Wright, owner of Richard's Beauty Salon in Mill Valley, told officers he was uninjured.

In other rulings today, the Supreme Court:

1. Declined to grant a hearing to a San Pedro dishwasher who was compelled by a judge to submit to sterilization rather than go to prison for non-support of his children. The man involved, Miguel Vega Andrada, appealed to the high court after the California Supreme Court refused to hear his case.

2. Agreed with a lower court decision that the President may postpone action on bills passed by Congress if he is out of the country. Ordinarily a President must either sign, veto or let a bill become law without his signatures within 10 days after a measure is sent him by Congress.

3. Agreed to decide whether private leased wire customers are entitled to refunds because of delays created by law suits in putting reduced rates into effect. The case involves a group of meat packers, the American Telephone & Telegraph Co., and Western Union.

Marinite's Drug Lawsuit Continuing

Jury trial of a $350,000 lawsuit filed by Allen D. Toole, 45, of Mill Valley, against manufacturers of a cholesterol-reducing drug entered its seventh day today in a San Francisco Superior Court.

Toole's suit charges that the drug, MER/29, banned from use by the Food and Drug Administration in April, 1962, caused cataracts in his eyes which led to permanently impaired vision.

Defendants in the suit are the William S. Merrell Co. and the Richardson Merrell Co. which put the medicine on the market in April, 1960.

The suit claims Toole took the drug on his doctor's orders, from July, 1960, to December, 1961, to reduce the amount of cholesterol in his blood. It charges the use of MER/29 caused his hair to fall out and changed the texture of his skin in addition to producing the cataracts.

The trial is expected to continue this week in the courtroom of Judge Walter Carpeneti.

Small Dog Shot, Reward Promised For Information

Mrs. Dorothy Abrahamson of Sausalito offered $25 reward today for anyone providing information regarding the death of her pedigreed pug, Punky, believed to have been shot last Thursday when Mrs. Abrahamson let him outside for air.

Punky was found dead in the yard of Mr. and Mrs. James Hopper Jr. at 147 Harrison Avenue at about 8 a.m. by their son, Steve.

Mrs. Abrahamson, who lives at 40 Santa Rosa Avenue, said she let the dog out at 6:30 a.m.

MUSIC REVIEW

Symphony Concert A Hit At College

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

A standing ovation by a capacity audience in the College of Marin Gymnasium Saturday night attested to the great success of the second Marin performance of the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra under maestro Josef Krips.

As in its first appearance last year at Forest Meadows, it was sponsored by Dominican Convent alumnae.

Musical fare was wisely chosen, both from the standpoint of sureness of appeal to the widest possible symphony-going public, and from showing off Krips' Forte in bringing to sparkling life the works of the great Austrian-Viennese composers.

Mozart's Jupiter Symphony No. 41 in C Major served as an ingratiating and not too stimulating aperitif. Richar Strauss' "De Rosenkavalier" suite was a lavish array of hors d'oeuvres of rich and exotic tonal colors before the entree of the musical feast—Brahms' Olympian symphony No. 1.

Strings sang with a wonderful purity of tone; brasses were lustrous, and woodwinds had the fluency of quicksilver.

Of special interest was this first opportunity to test the acoustics of the new gymnasium with a full house. It is amazing how much sound people absorb! Though every note was clear, considerable loss of resonance was evident in the Mozart symphony, and it took the more vivid orchestration and dynamic power of the Strauss suite and Brahms symphony to evoke substantial sonority — at least from where we were seated in the rear.

Regrettably, for everyone other than those seated in the first few rows on the floor and those in the upper rows of the bleachers, the concert was purely an auditory experience, except for the tips of bows and a few other instruments and Krips' head and a few arm-length flourishes.

In the future some sort of moveable platforms should be provided for performers.

Sausalito Candidate Night Set

Candidates for Sausalito School District board in the April 20 election will be asked to give their views on unification, the school budget and tax rate, quality of education, neighborhood schools and ability grouping at a candidates' night April 8, in Central School.

The meeting, sponsored by the Sausalito Citizens Council, will be moderated by council president Raymond G. Gergus.

Five are in the race for three positions on the board: Mrs. Eleanor R. Adams, 51, Monte Mar Drive; David E. Freedheim, 564 Sausalito Boulevard; Roy C. Kindred, 38 Glen Drive, and Bruce E. Woelfel, 93 San Carlos Avenue, all of Sausalito, and Nathaniel Johnson, 89 Cole Drive, Marin City.

Terms of Trustees Juanita Cobb, George R. Kowski and Dr. Stanley L. Wolfe expire and none of them is seeking re-election.

Each candidate will be invited to speak 10 minutes. A question period will follow.

Auto Demolished, Driver Not Hurt

A San Francisco man suffered only a brief loss of senses early yesterday when his car ran off Highway 101 near the Lincoln Avenue underpass and rolled over.

The vehicle, which was totally wrecked, struck the metal guard at about 4:10 a.m., skidded along the freeway, bounced off a tree and overturned, reported the California Highway Patrol.

Parts of the car were scattered over a wide area but the driver, Floyd Tamboury, 45, although shaken, did not require hospital treatment. He said a car veered in front of him, causing him to swerve off the road.

Salkinds Give Luster To Family Series

Duo pianists Milton and Peggy Salkind of Mill Valley, internationally known specialists in music for four hands, one piano, can always be depended upon to present an eminently satisfying concert.

Yesterday afternoon's fourth program in the Belvedere-Tiburon cultural series in Del Mar School Auditorium in Tiburon was no exception.

They and their program were admirably suited to this family-oriented series.

Precision of technique, near perfection in the subtle art of phrasing, and mutual empathy that produces identical realization of expressive nuances were only a few of the virtues of their pianism.

For children — and for that matter they were among our favorites too — nothing could have been better than the little vignettes of Ravel's "My Mere l'Oye" (Mother Goose) and Bizet's enchanting "Jeux d'Enfants" (children's games).

Their sensitive appreciation of the melodic line was especially evident in Mozart's Sonata in C Major and Schubert's Fantasy in F Minor, Opus 163, which is almost a signature number with them.

Three charming pieces, Opus 60, by Von Weber opened their program, and the exhilarating contemporary work "Dance Suite," Opus 20, by Robert Kurka was their dramatic finale.

Playing Russian Roulette in Vietnam

Mr. President:

The time has come for someone to speak out on behalf of the great body of your countrymen who regard with abhorrence the course to which you are committing the United States in Vietnam. As a holder of the Presidential Medal of Freedom, I have a duty to say plainly, and in public, what millions of patriotic fellow citizens are saying in the privacy of their homes. Namely, that the course you are now following affronts both our practical judgment and our moral sense.

Neither your manners nor your methods give us any assurance that your policy will lead to a good end: on the contrary, your attempt to cure by military force a situation that has been brought about by our own arrogant, one-sided political assumptions cannot have any final destination short of an irremediable nuclear catastrophe. That would constitute the terminal illness of our whole civilization, and your own people, no less than the Vietnamese and the Communists would be the helpless victims.

In embarking on this program, you are gambling with your country's future, because you have not the courage to discard a losing hand and start a new deal, though this was the magnificent opportunity that your election presented to you. Your games theorists have persuaded you to play Russian Roulette. But you cannot save the Government's face by blowing out our country's brains.

From the beginning, the presence of American forces in Vietnam, without the authority of the United Nations, was in defiance of our own solemn commitment when we helped to form that body. Our steady involvement with the military dictators who are waging civil war in South Vietnam, with our extravagant financial support and underhanded military co-operation, is as indefensible as our Government's original refusal to permit a popular election to be held in Vietnam, lest communism should be installed by popular vote. Your attempt now to pin the whole blame on the government of North Vietnam deceives no one except those whose wishful thinking originally committed us to our high-handed intervention: the same set of agencies and intelligences that inveigled us into the Bay of Pigs disaster.

Instead of using your well-known political adroitness to rescue our country from the military miscalculations and political blunders that created our impossible position in Vietnam, you now, casting all caution to the winds, propose to increase the area of senseless destruction and extermination, without having any other visible ends in view than to conceal our political impotence. In taking this unreasonable course, you not merely show a lack of "decent respect for the opinions of mankind," but you likewise mock and betray all our country's humane traditions.

This betrayal is all the more sinister because you are now, it is plain, obstinately committing us to the very military policy that your countrymen rejected when they so overwhelmingly defeated the Republican candidate.

Before you go further, let us tell you clearly: your professed aims are emptied of meaning by your totalitarian tactics and your nihilistic strategy. We are shamed by your actions, and revolted by your dishonest excuses and pretexts. What is worse, we are horrified by the immediate prospect of having our country's fate in the hands of leaders who, time and again, have shown their inability to think straight, to correct their errors, or to get out of a bad situation without creating a worse one.

The Government has forfeited our confidence; and we will oppose, with every means available within the law, the execution of this impractical, and above all, morally indefensible policy. There is only one way in which you can remove our opposition or regain our confidence; and that is to turn back from the course you have taken and to seek a human way out.

Amenia, N.Y. LEWIS MUMFORD

TAM BALLOT MEASURE

Second Chance At Unification

By ROBERT M. COPPOCK
(First of Three Articles)

Voters in the area of Tamalpais High School District on April 20 will have a second chance to approve a unification measure which would wipe out 11 elementary school districts and the high school district, creating instead a single unified district.

The measure was defeated last June 16, 192 to 14,582, largely by the votes in Ross, Reed and Kentfield elementary districts.

Because of a major revision in the state law, the stakes this time are different, although the area concerned is the same. The Legislature voted to reward districts that vote to unify with a $15 "bonus" tacked onto the district foundation program.

In addition, the state established an equalization tax distribution system within any area which defeats unification. The effect is that a "no" vote will not leave things as they were as far as school finances are concerned — it will make them worse.

Another difference from the last election will be that there will be no simultaneous election of trustees for the new district. That election, for seven board members representing seven areas but chosen at large, will probably be held June 22.

These are the seven areas:

1. Lagunitas, Nicasio and Fairfax districts.
2. San Anselmo District.
3. Ross and Kentfield districts.
4. Larkspur District.
5. Reed and part of Mill Valley district east of Highway 101.
6. Mill Valley District except part east of Highway 101 and Tamalpais Valley.
7. Sausalito and Bolinas-Stinson districts and Tamalpais Valley.

Since voters throughout the unification area vote for each board seat, it is possible for a candidate to lose in his home area and still win the election.

Most of the decisions concerning running of the schools after unification may not be answered until after trustees are elected, since the law will give this new school board much leeway in setting up a program.

But if unification passes, according to Robert Stannard, assistant county superintendent of schools, there will be certain limits on what the board can do.

First, the general purpose tax rate will be limited to about $4.18 per $100 assessed valuation, according to the county schools office's final computation. The rate may be slightly higher if an increase in Kentfield district's that rate, also set for April 20, is approved.

When the present high school tax rate is included, the new limit would decrease the limit in only three of the present districts: Lagunitas, Larkspur and Ross. However, the limits in five other districts are quite close, at $4.15. They are Sausalito, San Anselmo, Reed, Mill Valley, and Kentfield, not counting the coming Kentfield tax election.

The figure does not include override taxes, which may be levied without voter approval. Limits to some of these are set by law, but others have no legal limit. Many such overrides are now levied by local districts.

Palomar Mountain, location of the giant 200-inch Hale telescope, was the home of band-tailed pigeons, hence the Spanish called it "Palomar," meaning "Place of the Pigeons," or pigeon roost.

Eyewitnesses Sought To 101 Injury Crash

Three Martinez residents were severely injured last night when their car skidded and rolled off Highway 101 north of Novato, throwing two of them out onto the pavement.

Driver Mrs. Marlene Heirsche, 25, was in poor condition today at Marin General Hospital with fractures of skull, right hip, right arm and both legs. Her son, David, 7, was in critical condition with an unspecified head injury and cuts and bruises over much of his body.

Both were thrown from the car as it skidded and rolled 182 feet across the highway and came to a stop, upright, on the divider at 9 p.m. about two miles north of Novato.

Lois Cramer, 45, was in "satisfactory" condition at Novato general hospital while doctors checked her for possible fractures of the knee and concussion.

California Highway Patrolmen today asked any witness to the crash to notify them. One witness reportedly saw another car cut in front of the Heirche car, forcing Mrs. Heirsche to slam on the brakes on the gradual curve as she drove south. The witness left before patrolmen could talk with him.

Hub Man Named Hospital Associate

Jack Podesta of 1422 Butterfield Road, San Anselmo, has been elected second vice chairman of the Associates of Saint Francis Memorial Hospital, San Francisco for the 1965-66 term.

At the same time, the group announced names of 10 new associates, including Stanley Powell Jr. of San Anselmo, and Rudolph J. Drews and Francis J. Knorp of Ross.

Two Men Saved After Boat Flips

Ronald Ray of San Anselmo spent several chilling minutes in the bay off San Rafael yesterday after his motorboat was flipped by a large wave.

Ray and a companion, identified only as Dave, clung to their capsized craft until a passing boat picked them up and took them and the motorboat ashore.

Ray, 26, of 112 San Francisco Boulevard, was suffering from exposure because he had to shed heavy clothing to stay afloat. He was taken to Marin General Hospital and warmed up for an hour, then sent home.

Mrs. Diana J. Ray, Ronald's mother, said Dave was wearing a life jacket, but her son was not.

Note In Auto Hints Suicide From Gate Span

An unemployed San Francisco butcher, John Wilton, about 35, who has been listed as a possible suicide from Golden Gate Bridge, may have gone to his mother's home in Kerrville, Texas.

California Highway Patrol said yesterday Mrs. Mary Wilton told officers this is the third time her husband has disappeared in the last five years.

Usually he stays away for a month each time and on this accasion he may have gone to Texas, said Mrs. Wilton. He had been despondent recently because he could not get a job, she said.

The suicide probe started when Highway Patrolman Vincent Weimer found a note on the seat of Wilton's 1956 sedan left in the parking lot early Saturday near the bridge toll plaza. It read, "Mary, I'm sorry. There is no other way."

Mrs. Wilton said her husband only had $1.41 when he left home several days ago.

Clerics Mobilize For Voter Drive All Over Alabama

Dixie State's Attorney Belittles Proposals To Impeach Wallace

SELMA, Ala. (UPI)—Negro leaders today quietly mapped strategy to spearhead their voter registration drive by using white clergymen, and the Alabama attorney general called their plan to impeach Gov. George Wallace "extremism."

As the civil rights drive in Alabama entered its 11th week, state Atty. Gen. Richmond Flowers called the move to impeach Wallace "one more example of extremism."

"That's what is wrong with our state now," said Flowers in Montgomery. "We ave extremists on both sides."

The Rev. James Bevel, a top aide to Dr. Martin Luther King, announced last night organizational work would start today to send out-of-state white clergymen with Negroes into segregated rural areas to push voter registration. He also called for Wallace's impeachment.

Flowers said no Alabama governor has ever been impeached and Wallace is not likely to become the first. To impeach him, Flowers said, charges would have to be brought by the state House of Representatives. He said the governor would then be tried by the state Senate with the chief justice of the state Supreme Court presiding.

Charges under which a governor could be impeached include willful neglect of duty, corruption, incompetence and excessive use of alcoholic beverages.

"Now what are they going to charge him with?" Flowers asked.

Five Negro leaders were in Selma today and the town had one of its most quiet days since the civil rights drive started here in January.

Bevel, who also announced that a highway memorial service would be held tomorrow for Mrs. Viola Gregg Liuzzo — the first white woman to die in the civil rights movement—did not spell out details of the impachment movement.

A state prosecutor announced that a grand jury would consider "whatever evidence the state has" against four Ku Klux Klansmen arrested by federal authorities in Mrs. Liuzzo's death, at a regular session on April 19.

King declared in San Francisco Sunday that the 10-week-old 8 civil rights movement would continue in Alabama until Negro demands were met. He also called for a massive economic boycott against the state to force Gov. George C. Wallace to end the "reign of terror" in the state.

In discussing plans to send teams into rural Alabama, Bevel said that "we'll begin the first step of our program by organizing and dividing counties to various people."

Four Negroes and 10 whites, most of them Episcopal clergymen, went as a group yesterday to St. Paul's Episcopal Church which became the first white Protestant church in this racially troubled town to admit Negroes to worship.

The Rev. T. Frank Mathews, the church's rector, spoke on "reconciliation" and after the service some members of his congregation told him quietly they approved of the admission of the Negroes.

There were no incidents noted at the time but Selma Safety Commission Wilson Baker said afterwards that a white man, whom he identified as a member of Sheriff Jim Clark's mounted posse, was arrested after he arrived at the church with a camera.

Baker said the man had been drinking and became abusive when he was arrested. He was charged with disorderly conduct.

Marin Seminarians Return From Alabama

Fifty Presbyterian seminarians returned yesterday to San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo from Alabama, where they "put the show on the road" for the march from Selma to the state capitol at Montgomery.

"It was 50 San Anselmo seminarians and Gary Merrill who really put the show on the road," said Dr. Theodore A. Gill, seminary president who returned by bus with the others. He explained that the San Anselmo group, with Merrill, had the job of setting up camp for the marchers and moving it each day.

No other religious institution sent anywhere near so many to assist in the Alabama civil rights march, said Dr. Gill.

What they marched for won't be forgotten here. A memorial service for Mrs. Viola Liuzzo, slain Detroit civil rights worker, and "all other civil rights workers who have been killed in the recent right-to-work demonstration," will be held at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the First Presbyterian Church in San Rafael.

It will be sponsored by the Marin County Council of Churches. Dr. Gill will be principal speaker. Also participating will be Rev. Miles Riley of St. Raphael's Catholic Church, San Rafael; Rev. Donald Baldwin of First Methodist Church, San Rafael, and Douglas J. Quiett, chairman of the Marin Congress of Racial Equality.

Contributions will be received for needy persons in Selma, especially those who have lost their jobs because of the recent turmoil, said Rev. James E. Symons, pastor of St. Audrew United Presbyterian Church, Marin City, and secretary of the council of churches.

Dr. Gill related that he was at Brown's Chapel in Selma when Mrs. Liuzzo dropped off passengers there and started for Montgomery to pick up more in what proved to be her last drive.

When the seminarians' bus reached Jackson, Miss., they learned Mrs. Liuzzo had been murdered.

"From now on there will be relays of people" going to Alabama to make sure that Negroes' civil rights are not further oppressed as the result of the demonstrations, Dr. Gill said.

Within two days, he declared, the mammoth march can be repeated "any time it has to be."

The civil rights story from the South was brought to the Bay Area yesterday by Rev. Martin Luther King, whose Christian Southern Rights Conference is spearheading the drive. He was met at San Francisco International Airport by Mrs. William J. Jackson of Lucas Valley, who gave him $2,258 collected in Marin for the James Reeb Memorial Fund—so named for a Unitarian minister killed by racists in Selma.

Wirtz Not Sold On Labor Needs

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz is optimistic about California's ability to farm its crops without the help of foreign labor.

Wirtz noted that the state has just completed three months without the use of foreign workers—except for temporary help of 600 Japanese.

Wirtz said he thought the foreign influx was unnecessary, at least until next September when the peak of the harvest season coincides with the reopening of school.

Santa Fe Seeks To Trim Service

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Santa Fe Railway says it is asking permission to reduce its San Diegan passenger trains from four to two round trips daily.

It said a petition would be filed today with the Interstate Commercse Commission.

The petition, the railway said, will note a deficit of more than $800,000 in operation of the San Diegans during the first nine months of 1964.

Boys, 16, Found In Home As Owner Arrives

When John H. Jaquish arrived home Saturday afternoon, he entered by the back door and heard noises in the front of the house. He ran to see two teenagers going out the front door of the house at 93 Hillside Avenue, San Anselmo.

Chasing the two, Jaquish caught one 16-year-old boy, dragged him back to the house and called police, who soon picked up another boy, also 16.

Police reported the youths had entered the house and took a hunting knife, a cigarette lighter, and a carton of cigarettes. The boys were released to their parents.

Contract Suit Seeking Speedup Of Marina Work

Contractor Jack T. Campbell of Sleepy Hollow has filed a $376,918.45 suit for breach of contract against the Suisun Pacific Corp. and Suisun Pacific Ltd., developers of a marina project in Suisun City, Solano County.

Dudley Harkleroad of San Francisco, Campbell's attorney, said the reason for the suit was to force the defendants into speeding up financing of the multi-million-dollar project.

Campbell is general contractor and a partner in the project. In order for Campbell to be able to pay several subcontractors, his attorney said, the project's development must continue.

One subcontractor, the Fibrecrete Corp., filed a $67,000 foreclosure suit last week for payment on floating docks which it had installed.

Marin Views Not Presented At Fill Study Hearings

Marin County supervisors will be disappointed to learn tomorrow that County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney never got a chance to speak in Sacramento Wednesday at a hearing on the proposed San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission.

Last Tuesday the board authorized Maloney to appear at the hearing by the Senate Governmental Efficiency Committee. The committee convened at 9:30 a.m. but did not get around to conservation bill until about 11 a.m., Maloney said.

Sen. J. Eugene McAteer, D-San Francisco, author of the bill, presented six speakers who urged its passage. Then the hearing ended.

Maloney guessed there were about 500 at the hearing, including a group of conservationists from Marin, but no one was able to present Marin's case.

In its 4-1 vote last Tuesday, supervisors said Maloney should attend the hearing under a new policy whereby all appearances and appointments in Sacramento would first be confirmed through Assemblyman William T. Bagley's office. Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen voted against sending Maloney to Sacramento, arguing that he would spend the whole day there with little to show for it.

The new policy of confirming appointments was urged by Supervisor Chairman Peter H. Behr who cited many cases where Sacramento appointments has been disappointing for Marin officials.

After attending the Sacramento hearing, Maloney went to the annual civil law workshop in San Jose Thursday and Friday. With him was deputy counsel James F. Gustin.

Dr. Charles W. Aby points out the Grand Avenue junction with Highway 101 to Robert W. F. Severin, past president of the Chamber of Commerce, from the site of the San Rafael canal crossing. This additional thoroughfare will relieve the congestion at the Irwin Street entrance to the city. Initially requested by the San Rafael City Council from the State Highway commission more than ten years ago, the first traffic count was made in 1956. A delegation, led by Mayor John McInnis and J. B. Rice, in 1962 convinced the State Highway Commission that the situation was an emergency. The overcrossing will be finished this year.

Dr. Aby has participated in all of these vital negotiations in 14 years on the City Council.

Initiative – Experience – Leadership

BI-RACIAL PARLEY — Governor John McKiethen confers Saturday with Negro leaders in Jonesboro, La., where high school students had threatened a strike that could have turned the little town into "another Selma." Republican Assembly Nearly Reagan Rally

SAN DIEGO (AP)—The California Republican Assembly, its annual convention turned into a Ronald Reagan - for - governor rally, brushed aside mild opposition yesterday to approve resolutions asking an end to the income tax, restoration of the bracero program, and an investigation of the United Nations.

The 20,000-member CRA, the state's oldest and largest GOP volunteer organization, also chose as its new president Cyril Stevenson, 40-year-old Berkeley realtor who calls himself a Goldwater conservative.

Thirteen Northern California delegates, angered over the convention's refusal to take a strong stand on civil rights, indicated they would drop out of the organization.

The group, in a prepared statement, said they may find it wiser to join "an organization dedicated to responsible middle-of-the-road Republicanism."

The statement obviously referred to the recently organized California Republican League which has been labeled "a home for moderate Republicans."

Stevenson, with the support of national committeeman Gardiner Johnson, won the presidency on the first ballot. He polled 327 votes to 159 for William Ebert of San Francisco and 102 for O. L. Bane of Fresno.

Stevenson predicted that within a few years the conservative would be the strongest political voice in California and the nation.

The new president warned that only one danger stands in the way of the return to power by the California GOP—organization of a third party.

Stevenson said neither the conservatives nor the liberals must leave the Republican Party at this time.

Reagan, a movie and television star, was asked by a group of delegates to permit the introduction of a resolution endorsing him for governor.

Reagan refused, stating that he was ready to run for governor in 1966 only if he could be assured there would be "no bloody primary fight."

Although declining to make a definite statement on his political plans, Reagan lashed out at Democratic Gov. Brown during his convention address.

Reagan called the governor "a little Sir Echo who is determined to give California its biggest budget in history.

"The governor is more concerned with being a little brother to the big brother in Washington than protecting the people of California," he added.

Unification Views To Be Aired

Speakers on both sides of the proposed Tamalpais School unification will give their views at 8 p.m. April 6 at a public meeting at Marin Catholic High School in Kentfield.

The discussion will be sponsored by the Catholic high school and the League of Women Voters of Central Marin and will be in the school gymnasium.

Donald Kreps, principal of Redwood High School, and Mrs. H. James Compton of Kentfield, liaison chairman of Citizens for Unification, will speak in favor of unification. David D. Ring, a Reed School District trustee, and Mrs. Watson Connor, of the Kentfield School board, will speak against it.

Earl G. Marshall, chairman of the Marin County Committee on School District Organization, will be moderator. Speakers will also answer questions from the audience.

Voters will decide the issue at the polls April 20.

Embarcadero is a Spanish word, meaning landing place or shipping point. At one time, there were embarcaderos at Bolinas, Tomales and Olema. San Francisco embarcadero is ringed with 50 piers.

Cycle Safety Talk Slated

There will be a showing of a color film on the Tourist Trophy competition on the Isle of Man, a noted motorcycle event.

Louisiana Governor Averts Negro High School Boycott

JONESBORO, La. (AP) — Gov. John J. McKeithen's extraordinary effort to ease racial tension here ended a Negro high school boycott today.

The pupils voted to return to classes at Jackson High pending the outcome of conferences between a Negro parent-student committee and the Jackson Parish School Board.

McKeithen flew here from Baton Rouge Saturday to hear Negro grievances and talk with leaders on both sides.

Negro leaders had predicted that this little north Louisiana town was potentially "another Selma."

The Ku Klux Klan fired some crosses here and elsewhere in Louisiana Saturday night and yesterday after the governor's visit but no incidents were reported. A Negro march to the city hall shortly after dark last night was quiet.

McKeithen conferred with a Negro delegation at the high school, then toured the building and grounds.

The governor promised some immediate aid — particularly in regard to sending in new textbooks to replace those which are outdated or worn out.

Demonstrations in Jonesboro were triggered by the student boycott of all-Negro Jackson High March 8 after a false rumor that the football coach was to be fired for civil rights activities.

Summer School On Agenda For College Board

Sixteen adult education courses proposed for College of Marin's 1965 summer school will be considered by the Marin Junior College District board at 8 p.m. Thursday.

New courses would be conventional Spanish, English for the foreign born and driver improvement for juveniles.

The board will consider changing acting dean Roy G. Mikalson's position to that of assistant dean at a salary of $1,131.37 per month, an increase of $97.12 per month over his current salary.

A report on plans to decrease the number of games played on the college's football field, requested by the board March 18, will be presented.

San Francisco Blaze Kills Two

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Firemen believe a blaze that killed two persons, injured 14 and did $400,000 damage to a Nob Hill apartment house Saturday night may have started in a garbage chute.

Arson Inspector George Lucas indicated yesterday burning material could have been thrown down the chute from any of the upper floors.

The dead were identified as Miss Margaret Layman, 30-year-old clerk, and Leonard Egstrom, 20, a sailor on the USS Providence at Hunters Point.

The injured persons, mostly firemen, suffered minor burns or smoke inhalation. Seven were treated at the scene and seven taken to hospitals.

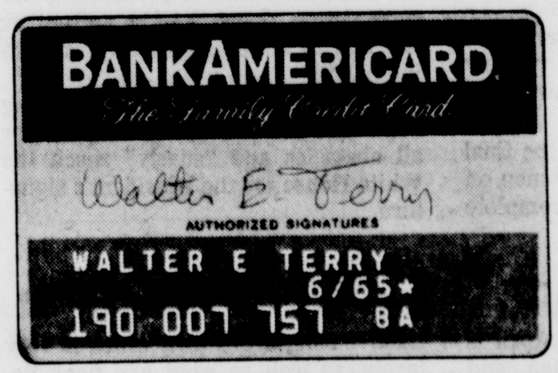

Three Outboard Motors Stolen

Three outboard motors worth a total of $1,000, were discovered missing at 7 a.m. Saturday from boats moored outside the Canal Boat Service of 345 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, according to police.

Another complaint came from Robert Gordon Drews of 172 Picnic Avenue, San Rafael, who said his car was broken into Thursday outside his home.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Vote Rights Bill A Tribute To All Who Want Justice

The voting rights bill introduced in Congress at the request of President Johnson is a tribute to those who fought for their own franchise and to fellow citizens from all over the nation who rallied to their support.

The efforts of attorneys, ministers, and laymen from Marin who sprang to the defense of justice in Alabama and Mississippi have not been entirely in vain.

Our two United States senators from California are among the legislators co-sponsoring the law to protect voting rights for all Americans.

Senator Thomas H. Kuchel played a major role in writing the measure. He termed the proposed legislation "a bill to implement the Emancipation Proclamation" and to restore rights of Negroes which have been "sheared away by trickery, devices, and duplicity."

"The right to vote remains man's greatest weapon against the tyranny of both the many and the few," said Kuchel.

"I am confident that when the final roll is announced, men and women on both sides of the aisle will complete what Abraham Lincoln started to do just over a century ago."

Senator George Murphy called the passage of this legislation "our duty, not as Republicans or Democrats, but as Americans to see that these constitutional rights are rigidly protected and thoroughly implemented."

"Although the language of the Constitution is crystal clear, the fact is that citizens of this country are being denied the most precious right they possess—the right to vote for their representatives," Senator Murphy declared.

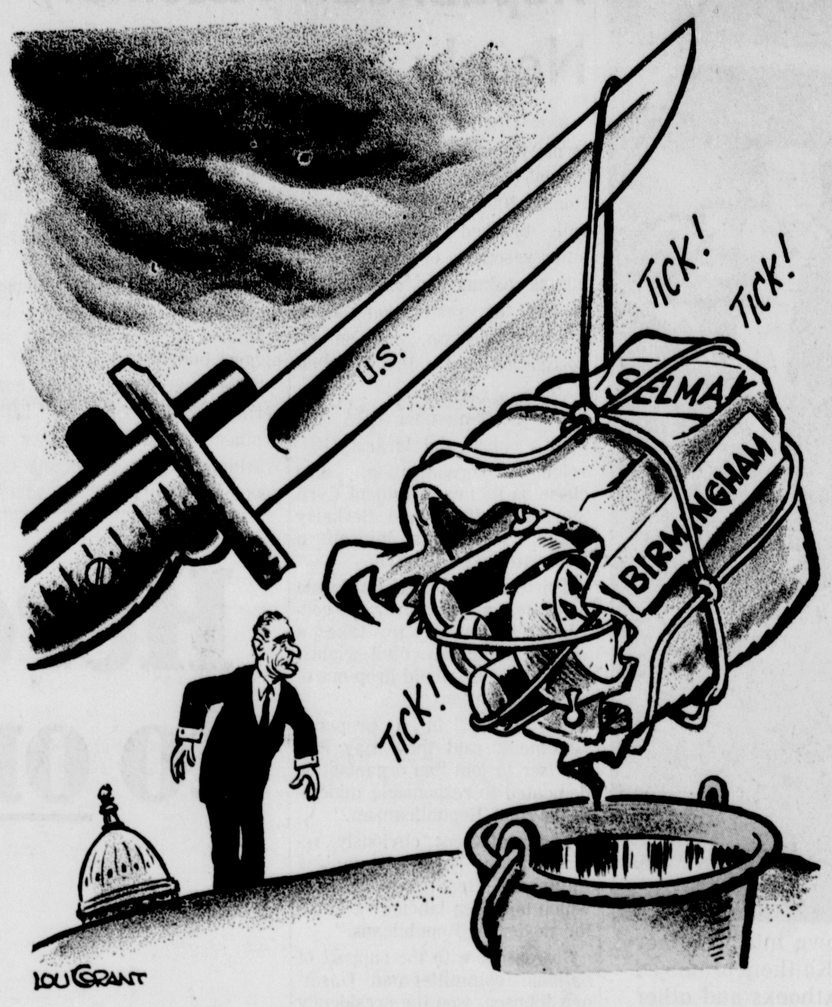

We applaud our representatives for the forthright stand taken on this issue.

We are confident that they speak for the vast majority of citizens in Marin.

The voting rights bill now before Congress would carry out provisions of the 15th Amendment by banning discriminatory literacy tests and other barriers to either registering or casting ballots.

We join our senators in expressing hope that the voting rights will clear all obstacles and "surely" reach the White House for the President's signature.

Handle With Care

Mockingbirds Are Outdoing Themselves

Late March and into early April is the Mockingbird mating season, and males are outdoing themselves with vocal gymnastics, each trying to prove that he is the sweetest, most versatile singer of them all.

Have you heard Mr. Mockingbird? We have a number of them in Marin but they are such successful mimics of other birds' songs that you might have heard him and mistaken him for someone else.

He also has a high-pitched, quite distinctive song of his own which is very lovely, as well as what one book describes as a "soft, low churr."

Some people think they look like shrikes. To us they more closely resemble long-tailed gray doves. They are not exactly dove-like in temperament, however, and will take charge of a garden or Christmas berry shrubs and keep other birds away.

"It's a sin to kill a mockingbird," says the Southern folk proverb. It is true in Marin too.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Wirtz Tour's Timing Mitigates Against Seeing Labor Needs

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The major need for agricultural labor in California occurs during the late summer and early fall, despite the fact that crops in this state are harvested virtually the year 'round. The demand now for such labor is at a low peak, and will increase until late next fall.

IT IS, THEREFORE, relatively easy for U. S. Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz to visit this state to appraise the labor situation in California and answer that "the crops are being harvested, despite the talk."

So now Wirtz is back in Washington, apparently convinced there is no need for several thousand Mexican workers because "the crops are being harvested" with domestic labor.

This attitude of the secretary of labor, who holds a position of trust to all the people of the United States and not just to his cohorts in union labor ranks, is something of an insult to the intelligence not only to the farmers but to all California residents as well.

IF CALIFORNIA farmers were convinced they could harvest without Mexican workers, no doubt they would not go through the involved and lengthy procedures necessary for delivery of the workers. It is much simpler and just as cheap for the farmer to hire at his gate, or order workers from the Department of Employment, which he helps support through taxes.

But the hard fact is that, when the time comes for the big demand, the supply will not be available without the supplemental supply from south of the border.

Even Gov. Edmund G. Brown, who has opposed use of the bracero for many years, and the department itself recognizes this fact. The governor is recommending a "phasing out" of bracero use, to be spread over a period of years.

THE DEPARTMENT of Employment admitted some time ago it could not supply farm labor in quantities desired by employers. And it was also found that much of the labor the department did supply was useless in the field.

Thus, the California farmer and the U. S. Department of Labor apparently have reached an impasse. The farmer is helpless in the struggle; the department headed by Wirtz has the power to enforce the immigration laws under which the Mexicans could be imported if the bureaucrats acceeded to the reasonable requests made on the West Coast.

Should importation of Mexicans cause some hardship to American labor, there might be some argument. The Mexicans have come to California since World War II. They have done their job, usually a good one, taken their pay, and gone home, to return season after season. All efforts to use domestic labor have fallen short of needs and the conclusion has been reached that domestic labor doesn't want the jobs in the fields.

AS A RESULT, a bureaucratic government, under the influence of the union labor promoters, has the power and authority to sit 3,000 miles away and judge the needs of the people in the largest state of the Union.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

San Quentin's Goal To Recondition Men

Editor, Independent-Journal:

On behalf of the San Quentin vocational auto-body repair shop instructors and inmate participants, I would like to extend my appreciation for your thoughtful editorial of March 17, entitled "Prison's Auto Shop Helps Both Inmates, Taxpayers."

It is encouraging that our programs of rehabilitation are relayed to the public through responsible agencies such as your newspaper. However, while the men enrolled in the auto-body repair shop may develop the skill to recondition an automobile, we feel the most important aspect of this or any other vocational program at San Quentin is the reconditioning of men. This is our primary goal.

Thank you once again for calling attention to the work being done at San Quentin—both with automobiles and men.

Teachers' Qualities Outweigh Paper Clip

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The letter of Mr. Farkas, on March 19, moves me to again dip an oar into the lively debate about the proposed Tamalpais High School District unification.

Apparently, the salaries of the elementary school teachers are now lower than those of high school teachers, and, in event the unification issue passes the April 20 election, might be raised to meet them.

Mr. Farkas seems to begrudge this possibility since the state subsidy money for school districts which unify might be used for this purpose and might not, as he puts it, "buy a single paper clip" for the schools.

First, as the parent of children enrolled in both grade and high schools, may I say that I value their teachers equally and think they are entitled to equal salary levels.

Second, if we have to make a choice between spending our school tax dollars for supplies or instructors, it occurs to me that Socrates wasn't too hampered by the lack of paper clips!

Teachers, like most things these days, come in a variety of qualities and price ranges. Wouldn't it be false economy to settle for less than the best? For, while it's nice to have beautiful grounds, ultramodern buildings and the latest equipment for our schools, without the best teachers, they're no more than white wall tires and and power windows without a vehicle to carry them.

Congress Names, Addresses Requested

It would be an aid to interested citizen and just might stimulate action if the I-J were to publish a list of our Congressional representatives and their mailing addresses as a weekly feature.

Clergy Should Stay At Home

Editor, Independent-Journal:

. . . Why are the churchmen traveling to the Southern states to show them how their state should be run? This constant emphasis on the clergy and nuns. Why does this carry so much weight?

I accidentally viewed the marchers at the courthouse Saturday (March 13) in San Rafael, nuns, clergy and I believe county employees in the march. One shop owner commented about the wonderful loudspeakers, clear as a bell. When the wreath is placed at the memorial on Memorial Day, one can hardly hear the speeches. I wonder if the politicians are sincere or just votes. When the clergy are flying hither and yon, "Who is keeping the store?" It appears to me the Californians or "Northerners" should clean up their own state before telling other states what to do. . . . The FSM are not solid citizens, they have no self-respect.

The clergy are a final example of righteousness (I mean them all) when they condone the behavior of CORE, Ad Hoc, DuBois and FSM and even join them in protest of the states' law enforcement. What happened to that law, about resisting arrest?

University of California . . . has a young chap leading the mob in revolt. Savio, the chap, is on the payroll at the university. A reader no less. How stupid can we get? Could we trespass as individuals as they have done? . . .

The March 22 issue of U. S. News and World Report in the article, "Crime in the U. S. Out of Hand?" The largest increase last year in crime was Marin County, Calif. Next Santa Barbara and San Mateo. We seem to have the most accidents also.

Is it the judiciary? Let's find out, and correct it. We live here, we pay the salaries, we should know what goes on.

Emotions May Cloud Unification Issue

Editor, Independent-Journal:

At the close of hearings held recently to consider alternative plans for unification, one speaker voiced concern about the public temper. She observed that it would be impossible to work together under any plan that might ultimately be adopted if feelings continued to run so high.

He point was a good one, and it is to be hoped her warning is heeded. Surely the objectives of all of us, whether for or against unification of the Tamalpais Union High School District, are the same: Fostering excellence in education in the schools of the area. Differences of view on how these objectives are to be attained must not be allowed to mar social and working relationships.

Parents themselves, with identical goals, sometimes differ on how day-to-day problems of growing up should be coped with, yet their common objective for their children far outweighs momentary differences with respect to how to get there.

So with unification. As members of a community striving to help our young people become informed and decent citizens who may lead full, productive lives, we should remember that our purpose is the same.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

ON HIS FIRST stopover in Las Vegas, a tourist became enamored of the slot machines. No sooner did he run out of a stack of quarters, than he changed a ten-dollar bill for another supply. Finally there were no more tens left in his wallet. "Don't these darn machines ever pay?" he demanded of no one in particular.

The cashier took it upon himself to answer. "They sure do pay," he asserted warmly. "They pay the rent. They pay the croupier and attendants. They pay me. They pay just fine sir."

FROM AN INDIAN on a New Mexico reservation came this bit of advice to Vice President Hubert Humphrey: "Dear V. P.: Be careful in revising those immigration laws of yours. We got careless with ours. (Signed) A Native American."

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Truman Has Blunt, Sound Advice For All Civil Rights Advocates

WASHINGTON—We all know that Harry Truman is a great lay-it-on-the-line guy. He says what he thinks and—bang—there it is.

THERE IT WAS the other day—take it or leave it. To former President Truman all the current sit-ins and "freedom marches," including the 50-mile trek from Selma to Montgomery, Ala., are "just silly, have nothing to do with the real issue."

Mr. Truman's record shows him to be a stout and sturdy advocate of civil rights and what he says today is aimed to help, not hurt, the cause.

In his special blunt way Mr. Truman is warning the civil rights groups not to allow themselves to be drawn off into any side issues whatsoever.

At stake in Selma, Montgomery, and elsewhere is not the right of free speech or free assembly, not the right to march and protest and picket.

At stake is the RIGHT TO VOTE.

There is nothing which the opponents of equal rights want more than to shunt attention away from the single, central issue of the right to vote and the denial of that right to Negro citizens.

GOV. GEORGE WALLACE is delighted to talk about the "so-called" freedom marches, as he calls them, the "so-called" demonstrations. He likes to talk about the protestors, the traffic snarls, the danger of violence.

Anything so long as he does not have to talk about the right to vote—and its denial to Negro citizens.

Note that the white supremacist Southerners, when they oppose the new voting rights bill, don't talk about the right to vote. They talk about the power of the states to do what they want about that right. They don't talk about the constitutionality of the right to vote. They talk about the unconstitutionality of enforcing the right to vote.

IF THE OPPONENTS of equal rights really believe in the moral basis of their purpose, they would be willing to advocate openly what they want and propose the only measure which could establish in law what they want.

What they want is the right to deny the vote to a large body of citizens. But they don't dare proclaim their purpose.

What they want is for the federal government to refrain from enforcing the Fifteenth Amendment to the Constitution, which guarantees the right to vote to all. But the federal government can't refrain from enforcing the right to vote unless the right to vote is removed from the Constitution.

WHY SHOULDN'T the opponents of equal rights—if they believe they have a moral basis for their purpose — propose an amendment to the Constitution that would replace the Fifteenth Amendment? It would be an honest and logical alternative to the new voting rights bill. It would be a simple and straightforward amendment which could read as follows:

"The right of citizens of the United States may be denied or abridged by any state on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude."

WE KNOW that the opponents of voting rights do not dare try openly to put into law what they want to achieve under cover. They know that they cannot persuade their fellow Americans that this is morally right or just or decent or attainable.

But, with Mr. Truman, I think we ought to keep the issue centered on the main target—the right to vote.

Johnson Offers Swap For Closed Hospitals

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — President Lyndon B. Johnson is offering a placatory "consolation prize" to the loudly irate opponents of his announced closing of 14 Veterans Administration hospitals throughout the country.

The hospitals are being tendered to state authorities for the care of mentally retarded children, mentally afflicted adults and as medical facilities for universities.

IN ADDITION, the president is saying federal funds will be made available to aid in converting these VA hospitals into state institutions. This is in line with administration plans to increase financial assistance for mentally retarded children.

Two factors are importantly behind the president's move: The hope of averting another congressional delay in discarding the 14 VA hospitals, and easing local political resentment and adverse economic repercussions. Last month Congress overwhelmingly barred shutting the hospitals before May 1.

The House Veterans Committee, headed by Rep. Olin Teague, D-Tex., is holding hearings on the abandonment plan. What effect the president's "consolation prize" stratagem will have on the committee's action remains to be seen.

ITS AUTHORS are Illinois Sens. Everett Dirksen, R, and Paul Douglas, D.

When they became convinced the president was determined to ax the veterans hospitals, they got together and proposed that the one at Dwight, Ill., be turned over to the state for the care of mentally retarded children. Gov. Otto Kerner joined in urging this on the president.

After consulting Veterans Administrator William Driver, the president not only gave his approval but directed the plan be submitted to the other states. It was also enlarged to include care of the mentally ill and university medical facilities.

IN STILL ANOTHER backstage effort to allay congressional opposition, Johnson is passing out the word that veterans will be cared for in private hospitals at government expense if VA institutions prove inadequate.

Speaker John McCormack, D-Mass., was largely instrumental in giving President Johnson the idea of delivering his voting rights message in person to a televised joint night session of Congress.

IT ALL STARTED when McCormack called at the White House to present a group of Catholic clergymen, including two from abroad. During the discussion the president spoke strongly about the need for further legislation to "assure everyone the right to vote."

"Mr. President, you ought to tell that to the whole country," said McCormack. "You ought to say that to Congress over a nation-wide TV-radio hook-up." The speaker then helped arrange the necessary invitation to speak before Congress.

The president's address was largely the work of three White House speech writers—Bill Moyers, Horace Busby and Richard Goodwin. They started writing Sunday night, about 24 hours before the president delivered it. It was completed around 8:30 p.m., one hour and a half before he was scheduled to go on the air. The final draft was the eighth.

THE PRESIDENT is credited with personally including the statement calling for "no delay, no hesitation and no compromise with our purpose."

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By RICK LYTTLE

If Dr. Hollis Really Is Twins The Salary's A County Bargain

IT IS MY unpleasant task to kill a happy rumor.

There are not two Drs. Hollis, one in Russia and one carrying on here in Marin as county superintendent of schools. I'm sorry, boys and girls, but there is only one Dr. Virgil S. Hollis and he happens to be in Russia at the moment.

It was Dr. Hollis' own dang fault that this remarkable rumor got started. It was the utter efficiency of the man.

HE LEFT for Russia March 18. That was fairly well documented. However, as long as a week after his departure, releases were still issuing from the county schools office over his signature.

The only logical explanation even to the most skeptical and pessimistic mind was that there were indeed two Drs. Hollis, the traveling one and the signing one.

But a check with his office revealed that Dr. Hollis signed several releases before he left, releases that were not to be released until later release dates.

HAVE YOU noticed that nowhere in the I-J has anyone had the poor taste to make something of the fact that the name of the principal of Novato High School, where neither teacher nor student is allowed to grow a beard, is Robert Wisgerhof? (Get it?

W-H-I-S-K-E-R-O-F-F!)

I think that shows the highest form of restraint. Don't you?

SPEAKING OF superlatives, this is the height of something.

The Book Publishing Co. of Seattle, which had the job of putting the county government code, formerly in three volumes, into one volume, awarded a civic achievement award to the Marin County Board of Supervisors for having the job done.

This type of thing will probably increase and we will eventually have successful low bidders on county road projects passing out loving cups to supervisors.

THE BOARD of supervisors last week took an action which was really "no" but maybe "yes."

The reason this sounds so confusing is because it is confusing.

By a split vote, with Supervisors Ernest N. Kettenhofen and Thomas T. Storer in the minority, the board agreed not to underwrite the Future of Marin Conference set for June 5 at College of Marin.

Thinking of the majority was that county backing would wither the "grass roots" aspect of the thing.

At the same time, all board members agreed informally that the county would probably pick up any deficit should the conference go in the hole.

"We're going on the assumption that all members of the board are gentlemen," said Chairman Peter H. Behr in explaining the informal support for the conference.

"But we don't want to be committed to it," Kettenhofen added.

So there you have it.

Eight persons burned to death and seven were injured when flames engulfed the Lodge at San Rafael Avenue and Grove Street, San Rafael. Arson was suspected.

State Sen. John F. McCarthy of Marin revealed a plan to include San Rafael's Second Street, the Miracle Mile and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in the state highway system.

Tavern owner Walter Silva asked the Sausalito City Council to let him set up card tables in his establishment, but later withdrew the request because of opposition.

A study of juvenile delinquency in Marin was launched by the Marin County Central Labor Council, which said the juvenile problem was critical.

ART BUCHWALD

Here's How U. S. Can Stem Tide Of Fast-Dwindling Gold Reserve

WASHINGTON—The American gold shortage is a constant thorn in the side of the Great Society. Every solution from taxing tourists to bringing home our GIs in Europe has been suggested, but none of them makes any sense.

IT WAS JUST by accident that I discovered an answer to the gold problem which nobody in the administration had thought of. I read in the newspapers that although the United States is losing millions of dollars worth of gold every day, the gold itself NEVER LEAVES THE COUNTRY.

As I understand it, any time a foreign country wants to cash in dollars for gold, they go down to the New York Assay Office and they tell the people they want to buy, let's say, $100 million worth of gold. But they don't take the gold with them. All that happens is the gold is trucked over a few blocks to the Federal Reserve Bank and put in a room where it's credited to the country involved.

The Federal Reserve Bank in New York is holding $12 billion worth of gold belonging to countries throughout the world. Each country has its own room and the gold is just sitting there doing nothing.

Now, this is my plan. Stashed away in our federal prisons are some of the greatest bank robbers this country has ever known, men who know their trade and would be willing to go back to work if there was a good reason.

WE WOULD approach these men and say, "Look, the United States is in terrible trouble and we need your help. Would you be willing to pull a heist on the Federal Reserve Bank of New York? There is about $12 billion in gold there and if you could get it out for us you'd be doing this country a great service."

Most bank robbers are patriotic by nature, and would certainly agree to go along with the plan. To facilitate matters and make the robbery authentic, they would be provided with plans of the bank, burglars' tools, and a non-lethal tear gas to make the bank guards sick.

It would be no trouble to knock off the bank and then the gold would be secretly transferred back to Fort Knox. Each of the men who participated would be given six months off their time as a reward.

Now, as soon as the gold was stolen, Dean Rusk would call up heads of state such as President de Gaulle and say, "Mr. President, a terrible thing has happened. The Federal Reserve Bank has been robbed and they took all your gold. I hope you were insured. You weren't? What a pity! Well, since it happened in the United States, we're going to try to make good your losses. We can't replace the gold, but we're shipping you a billion dollars worth of butter. The FBI is investigating, of course, and if we get our hands on the robbers, you'll be the first to know."

AT FIRST, there will be a wave of protests from the countries who lost their gold, and a few American embassies might even be sacked, but in the long run there wouldn't be much they could do about it.

The beauty of the plan is not only would we have $12 billion in gold to play with, but every country will think twice about cashing in their dollars the next time.

Market Closes Lower In Moderate Trading

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed lower today in moderate trading.

After an early rise, the market went lower. Rail merger candidates made gains at the start, then slumped.

New York Central and Pennsylvania Railroad were down about 2 each.

Eastern Air Lines also lost a couple of points on fears of new financing.

Down a point or so were Schering, General Electric and Polaroid.

IBM gained 4. Xerox added a fraction. Ford and General Motors were unchanged.

Volume for the day was estimated at 4.8 million shares compared with 5.04 million Friday.

Here was the picture near the close:

The list erased a small early gain and settled lower as the pace of dealings slowed.

Despite a favorable decision on their merger by Interstate Commerce Commission examiners, Pennsylvania Railroad fell a point and a half and New York Central lost nearly a point. Erie-Lackawanna, also involved in the merger picture, lost a fraction.

Most of the top steelmakers took fractional losses. Big Three motors, steady at the start, showed more losses than gains, with Ford and Chrysler slightly on the minus side and General Motors steady.

IBM bucked the downtrend with a rise of half a dozen points and Xerox was up well over a point.

Eastern Air Lines fell more than 2 on fears of new financing.

Rock Island Railroad sank 1¼ to 29 on a block of 17,800 shares.

Martin-Marietta was the most active stock, rising fractionally, but other airspace stocks retreated. Douglas Aircraft was down 1, others fractions.

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange.

Hardboard Plant Opens With Rites

OAKRIDGE—Pope and Talbot, Inc., 115 year old Pacific Coast forest products manufacturer, formally dedicated its $3½ million hardboard plant here today.

The new facility, the industry's most modern and efficient, features a new manufacturing process.

According to C. T. Walker, company president, a new "dry" manufacturing process will enable Pope and Talbot to produce a broad new line of hardboard products in a greater range of thicknesses, density and sizes than ever possible before.

The plant will use wood chips from other Pope and Talbot operations at Oakridge as raw materials. "The new unit represents a major step forward in product diversification and waste utilization," Walker said.

The plant has 120,000 square feet of space for manufacturing and warehousing products. The main building, constructed with clear span trusses to support the roof, provides an unobstructed floor area for operational efficiency.

Kaiser Bows To FTC Stand

OAKLAND — Kaiser Cement and Gypsum Corp. has announced a settlement agreement with the Federal Trade Commission providing for the divestment of its Bellingham, Wash., cement plant and two of the three aggregates and readymix concrete plants of its subsidiary, Glacier Sand and Gravel Co. in the Portland-Vancouver area.

A consent order carrying out the settlement has been entered by the Federal Trade Commission.

Kaiser Cement President Peter S. Hass said the settlement disposes of the complaint filed by the commission in June 1960, charging that the acquisition of these properties violated Section 7 of the Clayton Act.

The consent order provides that within four years Kaiser Cement shall divest the Bellingham plant and related properties which it acquired from Olympic Portland Cement Co., Ltd., on July 30, 1958.

ANOTHER SPORT COMES TO PEACOCK GAP: LACROSSE

Action was wild and wooley Saturday on the Peacock Gap field in San Rafael when an exhibition lacrosse game was played between the Palo Alto and University of California teams, Palo Alto winning, 6-3. It was another new wrinkle in the sports world at Peacock Gap initiated by Jerome Draper, president of the development company that built the residential complex. About 300 fans turned out to watch Saturday's exhibition and so many were interested that two Peacock Gap teams are being formed. Dick Mears of Tiburon is organizing the teams, with the first one expected to start competition in three or four weeks. (Ken Molino photo)

New Baseball Commissioner?

Balloting Begins Today

By JOE REICHLER

BELLEAIRE, Fla. (AP) — Major league club owners were expected to get their first glimpse today of the names of the candidates in the early running to succeed Ford Frick as commissioner of baseball next fall.

The 20 owners, who had submitted their nominations in sealed envelopes, were due to meet in a joint session at 10:30 a.m. EST.

First, they were to elect a new chairman of the three-man committee for selection of a new commissioner. Phil Wrigley Jr. of the Chicago Cubs announced his resignation as committee chairman two weeks ago.

The next order of business will be to turn over the envelopes containing the nominations to the new chairman who may or may not decide to have them opened. The nominations are secret, of course.

As late as last night, no one, not even Frick, could say for sure whether the envelopes would be opened at this meeting.

"The envelopes will be handed over to the new committee chairman, and he will make the decision whether to open them or not," Frick said.

It was the opinion of Dan Topping, president of the New York Yankees, that the envelopes would be opened for inspection. Even if they are, it is a virtual certainty that no agreement on the naming of Frick's successor will be reached at this meeting.

Frick, who became commissioner in September, 1951, already has announced his retirement to take effect at the conclusion of the 1965 World Series.

"It is my guess that the original list probably will contain between 40 and 60 names," Topping said. "I believe a good number of these nominations will be eliminated on the first count; nominees, for example, who receive only one or two votes."

It will take 14 votes to elect a

The BULLPEN

With JOHN J. CONNOLLY

'Baby Bull' Insists He'll Be Ready For Opening Of Season

CONNOLLY

"I'll be ready to play in 10 days and to stay in the lineup for the balance of the 1965 pennant race," Cepeda said, explaining that his knee operation is 100 per cent okay.

"I'd have been playing right now," he said, "except I got banged on the knee cap with a batted ball in practice. On orders from trainer Frankie Bowman, I've been very cautious. But I want it known I'm not injured. I'm just being careful."

Cepeda, along with Manager Herman Franks, wants to be the starting first sacker and he hopes the starting infield against the Pirates will be kept intact all year.

"We'd like to start off with a permanent set-up in the infield," Herman explains. "That, at the present time, calls for Cepeda on first base, Hal Lanier on second, Jose Pagan at shortstop, and Jim Hart at third."

That thinking on the part of the new Giant skipper makes sense. Most pennant winning ball clubs are ones that stay together and play together, side by side, from the kickoff. Last year the Giant infield was a razzle dazzle arrangement. Nobody, even the players, was sure who would be in any infield position for any length of time.

WITH CEPEDA'S definite remarks on his playing condition, the rest of the worry-problems of Manager Franks clings around Willie McCovey's ability to stand the gaff on his bum pedal.

"I'm feeling great and for the first time since last summer, I can run freely without cringing," McCovey explains.

"It's hard to explain," says Willie, "but when you're afraid to run, you're afraid to put any weight on the heel and that bothers my swing. But I feel fine and I'll be ready and hope I can help the club and myself."

LINDY MCDANIEL, Chicago Cubs pitcher is being mentioned as trade material in a swap that is being built around Chuck, Hiller, Giant utility infielder and 1962 second sacker for the Giants in their pennant winning season.

Chuck becomes dispensable because it is pretty certain that Hal Lanier will be the regular second sacker with Jimmy Davenport backing him up and also filling in as a sub for Jose Pagan at shortstop.

Denials, of course, are common and Chub Feeney, vice president of the Giants, will be the first to say there is nothing official. But constant mention of McDaniel's name prompts me to think he is wanted. And the only reason he isn't here now is because the Giants want to hold back on the high demands of the Cub bosses.

Marin Bowl Title Hopes Are Killed

The San Rafael Padres were mathematically eliminated from the Western Professional Bowling League title race yesterday, losing to the South San Francisco Jets 34-14 on the winners lanes, Brentwood Bowl.

Warren Newell and Carlos Acosta were the big guns for South San Francisco, Newell rolling games of 211, 268, 195, 258 and 248 for a 1,180 series and Acosta helping out with 205, 249, 245, 192 — 891.

The Padres got outstanding performances out of Terry Booth, 212, 257, 245, 192 — 906, and Dick Treadway, 232, 205, 238, 192 — 867.

Peacock Scores Rugby Victory

Peacock Gap's rugby team edged the University Club of Berkeley 5-3 Saturday afternoon on the San Rafael field.

The home towners scored all their points in the first half, Murdo Nicholsen with a three-point try and Tom Trutner with a conversion for two points. Skip Bowen put the University Club on the scoreboard in the second half with a three-point try.

Baseball Is Confusing At Times

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

When does a batter hit a home run with two men on base, and only one run scores?

When does a batter hit a home run with two men on base, and only two runs score?

In the first instance, when Kansas City's Tom Reynolds slammed an apparent homer in the 10th inning with the game tied 8-8 Sunday. The hit gave the Athletics a 9-8 victory over St. Louis.

In the second instance, when Billy Williams of the Chicago Cubs socked an apparent homer in the seventh inning that snapped a 5-5 tie last Wednesday. The Cubs eventually edged the Los Angeles Angels 8-7.

To say the situations are confusing is an understatement. In fact, yesterday's incident was so confusing that the final score at first was determined to be 10-8. It was only after a long discussion that the score was changed to 9-8.

In each case, the batter hitting the homer passed a runner between first and second bases, was called out immediately and was credited only with a single. The instances, however, differed so a different number of runners scored.

The Sunday situation was this:

With one out and the score 8-8 in the 10th inning, Ed Charles was at second and Ken Suarez was at first. Reynolds rapped the ball toward the right field fence and started running.

Charles and Suarez started running, too, but then held up when it appeared that the Cardinals' Tito Francona might catch the ball. Reynolds didn't slow up, though, and was 30 feet past Suarez by the time the ball skimmed over the fence.

After Charles and Suarez both crossed the plate, plate umpire Nestor Chylak signaled two runs. That's when the final score was given as 10-8. It later was changed under a provision of rule 4.11c:

"The batter hits a home run out of the playing field to win the game in the last half of the ninth or an extra inning, but is called out for passing a preceding runner. The game ends immediately when the winning run is scored."

In the Wednesday instance, the Cubs and Angels were tied 5-5 with none out in the fifth. With Glenn Beckert at third and Doug Clemens at first, Williams hit his second homer of the game over the right field screen.

Here, too, Clemens held up and was passed by Williams, who was called out and credited with a single. Beckert trotted home from third, and first base umpire Ed Runge waved Clemens around the bases for a second run.

In less confusing exhibition baseball games Sunday, Fred Newman pitched the Angels to a 5-3 victory over one Cleveland squad while another Cleveland team beat Boston 5-3 behind Leon Wagner's two-run homer.

The Chicago White Sox defeated Detroit 5-3 with Danny Cater belting three hits, and Frank Robinson's three-run homer powered Cincinnati to a 4-2 triumph over the New York Yankees, who absorbed their 10th defeat in the last 12 games.

AZALEA OPEN

Dick Hart Wins Longest Playoff

By KEN ALYTA

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP) — The Dick Hart golfing family, its bank roll enriched by $5,150, piled into a trailer today with its destination uncertain.

Hart, a 28-year-old club professional from Hinsdale, Ill., had intended to head back to his club job after finishing his sixth winter golf tour. But winning the Azalea Open Tournament in an eight-hole sudden death playoff yesterday with Phil Rodgers may change things.

It was the fourth time this year that a pro gained his first victory on the tour.

Hart, who has been a pro for 10 years, entered the $65,000 Greater Greensboro, N.C., Open Tournament which starts Thursday, after he outlasted Rodgers in their marathon duel.

He and his wife have two children.

Hart has played the last six winter tours, with his goal to win about $3,000 a year to meet expenses.

He came here a bit shy of that figure, having won $2,015 since joining the tour at Los Angeles in January. But he won $3,850 by beating Rodgers, and his fourth round 69 was worth $300 in bonus money for the day's low round. He and Bill Martindale, who also had a 69, shared the special $600 jackpot.

Hart won $1,000 earlier in bonus money after a second round 65 over the 6,700-yard par 72 Cape Fear Country Club course. Rodgers won $2,600 runner-up money.

Hart and Rodgers shot 276, a dozen strokes under par in tying after 72 holes. Joe Campbell, third at 278, won $1,875.

Jacky Cupit was fourth at 281, winning $1,650. Tied for fifth place at 282, worth $1,450 each, were Martindale, Butch Baird and Bob Zimmerman.

Hart birdied the 72nd hole of the $28,750 tournament for a finishing 69. He was aided by an eagle on the 15th, where he holed out a 40-yard wedge shot.

Rodgers, 54-hole leader by one stroke and still one ahead of Hart after 63 holes, birdied the 10th 11th and 15th of his final round. Then he got a life on the final hole by getting down in 2 after missing the green.

A par 3 on the eighth extra hole, where he chipped 18 inches

MARIN 'CATS SWEEP PAIR; NO-HITTER

Marin Catholic won a baseball doubleheader Saturday in Kentfield, beating Riordan of San Francisco 8-2 and 1-0.

A three-run triple by Bill Shine and a two-run double by Tom Soden led a seven-run uprising for Marin in the fourth inning of the first game. Ben Burch had a double, as all three basketball stars showed their baseball talents.

Sophomore righthander Gerry Handlos was the star of the second tilt, pitching a no-hitter in the five-inning affair. He struck out six and walked none, as the only two Riordan runners got on base on errors. Not a ball was hit to the outfield.

Sanford Comeback Hopes Are Dashed

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)— Jack Sanford, the Giant right hander who underwent an arm operation last summer, is trying to make a comeback with San Francisco.

Sanford's hopes were dashed somewhat yesterday when the Chicago Cubs unleashed a 15-hit attack for an 11-3 Cactus League victory.

Sanford held the Cubs to three isolated hits in the first five innings, but the Cubs blasted him for four runs on four hits in the sixth.

Sanford's successor, Bob Priddy, couldn't manage to get an out in the seventh inning. Mack Kuykendall led off with a pinch hit homer. Jim Stewart and Glen Beckert each singled and Don Landrum cleared the bases with a home run.

Jim Duffalo, the third Giant hurler, finally squelched the hitting spree, but the Cubs clobbered him for three runs in the eighth inning on four hits.

The Giants scored two of their runs in the opening innings off Cub starter Cal Koontz. Matty Alou doubled in the first inning and Willie Mays singled him home.

In the second inning Jose Pagan singled and came all the way around on following singles by Sanford and Hal Lanier.

The third and final Giant run was scored by Ed Bailey in the seventh. He singled to right center, advanced on a bunt by Matty Alou down the third base line, went to third on a wild pitch and came home as Lanier tapped into a double play.

MIDGET AUTO DRIVER DIES AT SACRAMENTO

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The driver of a midget auto died Sunday when his vehicle hit a wall, climbed it, flipped over several times and landed in a parking lot.

The accident occurred during a time trial at Capital Speedway in West Sacramento. Track officials estimated driver Bob Nicholson of Millbrae, Calif., about 30, was traveling around 100 miles per hour when his throttle apparently jammed.

The wall the midget auto climbed was eight feet tall. It was the track's first fatality in three years, officials reported.

SPECTACULAR SEBRING VICTORY

Chaparral Rules Road Racing World

By DUKE FERGUSON

SEBRING, Fla. (AP) — The old adage, "If you can't beat 'em, join 'em," probably applies to automobile racing more than any other field.

Jim Hall's spectacular victory here Saturday in the 12-hour endurance race, using a Chevrolet-powered car with an automatic transmission, probably will set the pace for the sport.

"You can't knock success," said a spokesman for Carroll Shelby, builders of the Ford-Cobra and now in charge of the Ford GT racing program.

"We've been working on an automatic transmission principal as well as other things," said a representative for Shelby-American of Venice, Calif.

Hall's Chaparral — which is a term for the road runner bird in Texas, Hall's home state — finished the 12-hour grind over the 5.2 mile twisting course with 197 laps, five laps ahead of the rest of the field. His average speed for the 12 hours was 84.723 miles per hour.

Rain which started falling in a torrential downpour around 5:30 p.m., EST, slowed his earier pace of just under 100 miles per hour, eight m.p.h. more than the record set last year by a Ferrari.

Hall said after the race he would like to start producing his cars for general sale. However, his plans were vague.

"We're oil men, not manufacturers," said Hall and his co-driver in the winning car, Hap Sharp. "But we'd still like to manufacture them if we can get the price down."

Hall raced in the sports car category.

The second place car, a Ford prototype, driven by Ken Miles of Hollywood, Calif., and Bruce McLaren of New Zealand finished second at 192 laps and won the points toward the world's manufacturers title. A Ford-Cobra, produced by Shelby, won the grand touring division title with a fourth-place finish at 187 laps. The third place car was a Ferrari driven by David Piper of England and Anthony Maggs of Pretoria, South Afirca.

This was the second time in less than a month that the Ford prototypes beat Ferrari in the race for the manufacturers championship. The first victory this year came at the Daytona Continental.

Shelby said he plans to run at least two and possibly three prototype Ford GTs in the 24-hour of endurance race at Le Mans later this spring.

MEMORIAL RACE

Offys Score Big In Indy 'Tuneup'

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Don Branson of Champaign, Ill., and eight other drivers proved yesterday that the Offenhauser engine can't be counted out of this year's Indianapolis 500-mile auto race.

Branson, driving a conventional front engine Offenhauser, averaged 106.4 miles per hour to win the first annual Jimmy Bryan Memorial 150-mile race.

Eight of the other 10 finishers in an original field of 24 also drove cars powered by Offys.

The lone exception was a rear engine Ford in which Lloyd Ruby of Wichita Falls, Tex., finished fifth.

The race, the first U.S. Auto Club event of the year, is considered a preview for the Indianapolis Classic. Phoenix International Raceway is the only track in the West on which Indianapolis-type cars can run.

Jim McElreath of Arlington, Tex., finished second in a rear engine Offenhauser. Ronnie Duman of Indianapolis was third in a dirt track Offy and Jim Hurtubise of North Tonawanda, N.Y., was fourth in a rear engine Offenhauser.

Hurtubise was making his first appearance since suffering severe burns in an accident last year.

Also making his first start since being injured in a crash last year was veteran A. J. Foyt of Houston. The four-time USAC champion won the pole position and held the lead for 10 miles. Engine trouble sidelined him after 40 miles.

The caution flag went out four times, but none of the accidents resulted in injuries.

USC, Stanford Thinclads Dominate Western Action

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The powerful Southern California Trojans and the dangerous Stanford Indians continued to wage successful collegiate track battles over the weekend.

The Trojans captured no less than all three places in six events and won 13 firsts in overwhelming Occidental 115-29 in a dual meet Saturday.

Despite the domination, however, the winning marks were regarded as less than impressive. The Trojans set meet records in the 330 yard hurdles with a 36.6 time by Vance Peterson and in the 880 with a 1:50.1 time by Bruce Bese.

Stanford beat neighbor San Jose for the first time in a decade, 81½-63½. Distance runners Paul Schlicke and Dave Deubner led the way.

Schlicke won in 4:15.6 in the mile and in 9:01 in the two-two-mile.

Deubner came far from behind in the 880 with a tremendous sprint which carried him past San Jose's Joe Neff and Mike Gibeau in the final five yards.

His time, in an upset victory, was 1:51.7. Deubner also took second in the mile.

Fresno State trailed UCLA in the university division, followed by UCLA Frosh and Cal Poly at San Luis Obispo.

The unanimous choice as athlete of the meet was Bob Steinhoff, a student at Warren High School in Downey, Calif.

California finished second in a three-way meet at Tempe, Ariz., with Arizona State University and Oklahoma.

Arizona State's Ulis Williams ran a brilliant 46.1 quarter mile, fastest of the season to date, as the host school rolled up 73 points. California totaled 61 and Oklahoma got 47.

California's 440 relay team set a stadium record of 40.3 and its mile relay squad won handily in 3:11.5.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The last - place Los Angeles Blades and fifth - place San Francisco Seals ended the season the same way: Both out of the Western Hockey League playoffs.

It will be Victoria at Seattle and Vancouver at Portland in opening games of the Western Hockey League Patrick Cup playoffs Wednesday night.

Pairings were determined yesterday as first-place Portland downed Seattle 5-4 and Vancouver nailed down third place with a 7-4 triumph over Victoria.

The remainder of the playoff schedule will be:

Tamalpais High School's baseballers suffered their third setback without a win Saturday in Vallejo, falling to the North Bay team 7-2.

New Commissioner Balloting Starts

commissioner. Complicating the election even more is the requirement there be a minimum of seven votes from each league.

A majority of the club owners feel that the next commissioner should come from the ranks of business or industry. They are opposed to a politician or a baseball man.

Those who favor a man outside the baseball realm are of the opinion that the new commissioner should have an executive assistant, a man thoroughly versed in baseball rules and law.

Among the baseball men most prominently mentioned as possible candidates are American League President Joe Cronin, Buzzy Bavasi of the Los Angeles Dodgers, Lee McPhail of Baltimore, Gabe Paul of Cleveland, Joe Brown of Pittsburgh, Fred Hane yof the Los Angeles Angels, judge Robert Cannon, counsel for the Baseball Players' Association, Charles Segar, secretary-treasurer of baseball, and Hank Greenberg.

The list of outside candidates includes New York attorney Bill Shea, Senators Robert Kennedy of New York, Philip Hart of Michigan and Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota, Supreme Court Justice Byron White, Gen. Maxwell Taylor, Richard Nixon and Milton Eisenhower.

Tars Earn Split In Openers

The "Traveling Vagabonds," as the College of Marin baseball players call themselves, are batting at an even .500 club in the early stages of Golden Valley Conference play.

Marin split a doubleheader at Weed Saturday in the first conference games of the year for the Tars, winning the first game 11-7 and dropping the nightcap 6-0, against Siskiyous Junior College.

Because of a schedule change, that doubleheader with Siskiyous was switched from the originally slated twin bill set for May 1. On that date, Marin will instead play Shasta in a doubleheader at Albert Park in San Rafael.

John Odetto and Joe Hebel led a 14-hit Marin assault in the first game Saturday, Odetto rapping a double and two singles in six trips to the plate and Hebel collecting three singles in four trips. Chuck Overmeyer and Fred Mack each had a pair of singles, and Denny Thorne, Larry Gerughty, Frank Dittle and Mike Knittle each added a single of their own.

Overmyer, who relieved starter Jim Timmell in the third inning, put out a Siskiyous rally and went on to complete the game and get the win. Marin broke a 5-5 tie in the seventh inning with a six-run outburst.

The Tars were held to only two hits in the second game, Bill Brody smashing a triple and Mack tapping a single. Three of Siskiyous' six runs were unearned, the victim being losing pitcher Jim Schmidt.

Marin travels to Palo Alto Wednesday for a practice game against the Stanford junior varsity team, 3 p.m., then gets set for a conference doubleheader against Yuba, noon at Albert Park, Saturday.

'Old Man' Saari Still Improving

AMES, Iowa (AP) — Teenage domination of swimming in recent years has made has beens out of a lot of young champions.

But Southern California's Roy Saari is determined not to be shunted aside for several years.

"I'm still improving," the 20-year-old king of the national collegiate swimming championships said after leading the Trojans to their third straight team title here.

"I don't think I'm near my peak yet," Saari said. "I'm in the best form of my life, and I have never been faster." Saari conceded that it is tough to stay on top long "because the young kids are getting better all the time. I'll have to keep working and keep improving or they will overtake me."

THREE TITLES

The Olympic veteran wasn't overtaken by anyone at the collegiate championships which wound up Saturday night. He won three individual titles in record time for the second straight year.

Saari lowered the American and collegiate record in the 1,650 yard freestyle to 16:39.9, the collegiate mark in the 200-yard freestyle to 1:42.9, and the American and college standards in the 500-yard freestyle to 4:43.6.

The Southern California ace was the only triple winner, but Steve Clark of Yale, Ken Sitzberger of Indiana, Gary Dilley of Michigan State and Fred Schmidt of Indiana each won twice as eight American and nine collegiate records were bettered.

FREESTYLE RACES

Clark took the 100 and 200-yard freestyle races, Sitzberger won high and low diving titles, Dilley swept the 100 and 200 yard backstroke events and Schmidt claimed titles in the 100 and 200-yard butterfly races.

Saari and many of the other collegiate standouts will compete this weekend at Yale in the AAU championships. A feature of that meet will be battles between the Southern California Speedster and Yale freshman Don Schollander, who won four Olympic gold medals last fall.

Schollander was not eligible for competition in the collegiate meet, where Indiana finished as the runner-up for the second straight year.

The Hoosiers scored 278½ points with the Trojans collecting with 285. Michigan was third with 221.

CHAMPS PICKED TOMORROW IN DOUBLE HEADER TITLE FIGHTS

By BOB GREEN

NEW YORK (AP) — Champions Willie Pastrano, who once flunked gym, and Emile Griffith, who once made ladies' hats for a living, are favored to defend their titles against a couple of guys named Joe tomorrow night night in a Madison Square Garden championship doubleheader.

The double title show is expected to be another major step in the brand new boxing boom in the post free-TV era. Promoter Harry Markson said he expects a gate of about $200,000 to possibly $250,000 if the 18,400 seat arena is sold out.

Pastrano, the light heavyweight champ from Miami, is a thin 6-5 favorite over Jose Torres of New York. Griffith, a native of the Virgin Islands now living in New York, is a solid 2-1 choice to defend his welterweight crown against Jose Stable, a Cuban refugee now living in New York.

Each fight is scheduled for 15 rounds, with the Griffith-Stable bout going on first, at 9:30 p.m., EST. The light-heavy fight will follow immediately.

Each is scheduled for theater television coverage with Theater Network Television Inc. beaming the bouts to 86 locations in the United States and Canada. The network said total theater seating capacity is 350,000.

Both challengers have excellent credentials, and, as usuual, both have expressed pre-fight confidence.

Torres, an over-grown middleweight and one-time stablemate of Floyd Patterson, is ranked fifth by the World Boxing Association. He still uses the peek-a-boo style Patterson made famous as heavyweight champion.

"I can out-box Pastrano easily," the 28-year-old Torres said. "I have a better jab than he does and I move faster. I have movies of most of Willie's major fights. I know exactly how he fights. I plan to out-box him, but if the chance comes I will knock him out."

Torres has a 34-1-1 record, including 25 knockouts. His only defeat was a fifth round knockout at the hands of Florentino Fernandez in Puerto Rico May 26, 1963. He has won eight straight since.

"I will take the fight to Griffith," he said through an interpreter. "I have to, because he has what I want. The only way I can get it is go in and take it."

Stable has a 25-2-1 record, including nine knockouts. He has never been stopped, and has a string of nine straight victoies.

Pastrano, 29-year-old native of New Orleans where he once failed his gym class at Warren Easton High School, has a 62-12-8 record going back to 1951.

Pastrano, noted as an excellent boxer, won the title with a decision over Harold Johnson in 1963. He has made two defenses, and has a $100,000 guarantee against Torres.

Griffith, 27, who had a job in a ladies' hat factory when he first came to the U.S., goes into his 11th welter title bout. He has an 8-2 record in championship competition, is the only man to win the welter crown three times and has a 43-5 over-all record.

All four finished up training sessions over the weekend, and are scheduled to weigh in Tuesday morning. Scoring will be by the rounds sytem. A fighter floored three times in one round will be declared the loser by a knockout.

Derby Trial Headlines G.G. Racing

ALBANY, Calif. (AP) — The $15,000 added California Derby Trial tops off this week's racing at Golden Gate Fields with so many entries eligible that the race may be run in two divisions.

Saturday's running of the trial, at one mile, is the final major stepping stone toward the Golden Jubilee presentation of the $50,000 added California Derby on Saturday, April 17.

There were 97 original nominees to the derby and enough of them are still in the running for starting berths that the trial may be split.

A trio of outstanding candidates, Arksroni, Carpenter's Rule, and Charger's Kin arrived over the weekend from Santa Anita. Another 3-year-old certain to see action in the trial is Nasharco, who galloped to an impressive win last week in a derby preview race.

Native Diver, a continuous favorite at Golden Gate, failed last Saturday in his shot at his 20th stakes victory when Viking Spirit outdistanced the Diver in the stretch to win the $15,000 added San Francisco mile. A foul claim against Viking Spirit was disallowed.

Wilt Scores Only 17, But Sparks 76ers To Victory

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Philadelphia 76ers do not necessarily need prolific scoring from Wilt Chamberlain. Neither does the so-called disadvantage of playing on an opponent's floor bother them.

The 7-foot-1 Chamberlain scored just 17 points yesterday, but still led his team to an impressive 108-94 victory over the Cincinnati Royals in their semi-final playoffs in the National Basketball Association.

The victory gave Philadelphia a 2-1 edge in the best-of-5 Eastern Division series. The fourth game will be played in Philadelphia Wednesday night and the 76ers can wrap up the series with a victory. Both of Philadelphia's victories, however, have been here.

Baltimore also needs only one more victory to win the best-of-5 Western Division semifinals from the St. Louis Hawks. The Bullets moved into a 2-1 edge with a crushing 131-99 victory over the Hawks at Baltimore Saturday night. The Bullets-Hawks fourth game will be Tuesday night in Baltimore.

Philadelphia Coach Dolph Schayes said, "It was the little things that won for us" yesterday.

He referred to the 76ers picking up loose balls, stealing the ball from normally sure-fingered Royals, making key foul shots and blocking shots.

Schayes could care less if Chamberlain doesn't score — as long as he keeps the other team from hitting the basket.

"Wilt not only blocked 10 shots but forced them to take many other bad shots," Schayes said. "If he plays the rest of the way like he did today, we'll win the championship."

Chamberlain, the NBA's top scorer, took only 15 shots. But he was a tower of strength, feeding his teammates and batting down Royals' shots.

GOODRICH, ROBINSON

Little Guys Steal Show In Star Cage

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — If the professional scouts who watched Saturday's East-West College All-Star basketball game were impressed, it probably was by performers who are too small by pro standards.

Guards Flynn Robinson of Wyoming and All-America Gail Goodrich of UCLA brought the West from 11 points behind in the second half to an 87-74 victory.

The 6-foot-1, 170-pound Goodrich scored 20 points and was named the game's most valuable player, but it was Robinson, 6-1, 190, who ignited the Westerners.

The East, with Billy Cunningham of North Carolina leading the way, had opened up a 65-54 lead with about 14 minutes left in the game. Then Robinson replaced Oregon State's Jim Jarvis in the West line-up.

The Wyoming star and Goodrich each hit three field goals and Robinson added a free throw as the West reeled off 17 straight points in the next four minutes. Robinson's steal and a pass to the wide-open Goodrich with three minutes left produced the basket which iced the game at 81-66.

Cunningham, who topped East scoring with 19 points and won the game's sportsmanship trophy, is another who may not play pro ball. Although he is 6-5 and 210 pounds, he says he plans to play AAU ball after graduation.

"That Robinson," St. Louis Hawks' General Manager Marty Blake said, "every time he gets within 50 feet of the basket he shoots."

Still, Robinson hit eight of 16 field goal attempts and four free throws for 20 points to tie Goodrich for game scoring honors.

All the NBA teams had representatives at the game, which is a predraft showcase for the best of the year's college talent.

Best bets to make first round draftees, according to some of the scouts, were:

— Michigan's 6-7 Bill Buntin, who scored 16 points and carried the East through the early going.

— Wichita's 1964 All-America Dave Stallworth, 6-7, who scored 15.

— Davidson's Fred Hetzel, a 6-8 All-America, who played only about 15 minutes but led all rebounders with 12.

—And the West's leading rebounder, San Francisco's Ollie Johnson, who pulled down 11 rebounds and scored 12 points.

The National Association of Basketball Coaches announced the game again would be played in Lexington in 1966.

Hart Wins Azalea Open In Overtime

from the cup gave Hart his victory. Rodgers had missed the green, chipped 12 feet from the hole and missed his putt.

They had parred the first four holes. Each took a bogey on the short fifth, and Hart matched a Rodgers par 5 on the sixth. Rodgers came out of a trap to get his par 4 on No. 7 and prolong the struggle.

It was the longest playoff to a decision in PGA history. Cary Middlecoff and Lloyd Mangrum went 11 holes before darkness halted them at Detroit in 1949.

"Sorry about costing you those Masters points," Hart said to Rodgers later. "You have to earn them to get them," Rodgers replied.

Rodgers would have picked up 35 points in his fight to gain the remaining spot in next week's Masters. Instead, he netted 24 points for a total of 58. Four golfers are ahead of him in the scramble for the position.

Twenty five points, plus a 10-points bonus, go to a tourney winner in figuring Masters points, with 24 for a second place finish, etc., down to one for a 25th place windup.

Ex-FBI Figure Dies In Nevada

By BILL STALL
Associated Press Writer

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP)— One of the nation's leading former G-men succumbed quietly to a heart attack Sunday after a career in which he battled the likes of John Dillinger and Baby Face Nelson.

Ray J. Abbaticchio Jr., described by friends as a "banty rooster" type man, later was Nevada's chief gambling control enforcer. He had been hospitalized in Carson City since the heart attack March 19 and spent his 58th birthday in the hospital last Tuesday.

The Georgetown University law graduate was a Federal Bureau of Investigation agent for 25 years. For 18 of those years, he was special agent in charge of some of the top FBI offices in the nationa, including San Francisco, Cleveland, Philadelphia, Houston and New Orleans.

Abbaticchio was a member of an elite detail working out of Chicago during the mid-1930s which helped end the careers of such hoodlums as Baby Face Nelson and Pretty Boy Floyd. He participated in investigation of the Lindbergh baby kidnaping.

During World War II, he helped crack some major spy cases. After retiring in 1958 from the FBI, Abbaticchio was chosen by newly elected Gov. Grant Sawyer to be chairman of the Nevada Gaming Control Board, to help carry out Sawyer's campaign pledge of strict enforcement of the state's legal gambling rules.

Marine Academy Cadets Return

VALLEJO (AP) — Cadets of the California Marine Academy, just returned from a hectic round-trip voyage to the Far East, began a two-week vacation today.

During the cruise of their training ship Golden Bear, 64 trainees and officers came down with flu in an epidemic which broke out March 14.

One cadet was so ill that he was put ashore at Honolulu. He recovered completely and was flown to his home in Southern California.

Officers said the trip was "hectic" but highly successful. The academy trains officers for the merchant marine.

Three Inmates Walk Away From Conservation Camp

Three inmates walked away from the San Quentin Prison Chamberlain Creek conservation camp in Mendocino County, Saturday night and were still on the run today.

Missing from the 10 p.m. count were Richard J. Rector, 31; Robert F. Butler, 26; and Robert W. Autrey, 34, all committed from Los Angeles County.

Elmer L. Howell, San Quentin Prison manager, correctional officer, said yesterday the trio made a quiet breakaway as there were no vehicles missing. Rector and Autrey are serving time for forgery and possession of narcotics and Butler was sentenced for first degree robbery.

Completes Basic

A/3c John K. Michler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl F. Curry of 118 Golden Hinde Passage, Corte Madera, has completed basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex., and will be assigned to an Air Defense Command unit at Spokane International Airport.

Candidates Night Due For Schools In West Marin

Candidates night for West Marin Union and Tomales Bay Union High school districts board candidates will be held at 8 p.m. today at West Marin School.

Charles Reilly, elementary school board incumbent who is not seeking re-election, will be moderator.

Candidates for three vacancies on the West Marin School District board are Robert E. Gallagher, incumbent, and George McCartney Johnston, Mrs. Megan M. Mery and Joseph F. Joyce.

High school district board candidates for three vacancies are Roy A. Parks, incumbent, Gordon W. Pusser, Jean E. Adams and N. Louise Passalacqua.

The name Novato is that of a valley, also an early land grant. One authority says the name is derived from that of a chief of the Hookooeko Indians who probably had been baptised for Novatus, an early Roman Christian.

A Keen Curiosity Produces Bent Toward Science Career

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI)—Surround your child with telescopes, chemistry sets and other scientific tools in the hope that the science bug will bite.

But unless the youngster has curiosity without surcease, you won't have an embryonic scientist in the family.

The curiosity, according to interviews with 4,000 teen-agers with a scientific bent, is the sparkplug that ignites the appetite along the road to scientific careers.

Steven R. Carlin, executive producer of the "Science All Stars" television show, is the expert who has chatted with the boys and girls who have demonstrated talents with test tubes and other scientific paraphenalia.

Through the interviews he has come up with an answer to this question: What nudges an American teen-ager toward a career in science?

Curiosity, he maintains, puts the youngster in the scientific orbit. A second factor is environmental — an outside stimulus of some sort. Often, the latter happens accidentally.

Michael Lavelle, 13, of Oradell, N.J., one "science all-stars" participant, took to science the happenstance way.

Carlin said Lavelle got lost in a public library. In the process, he got introduced to science.

The youth had been looking for a mystery novel. By mistake, he sauntered into another section of the library, picked up a magazine and read about photocells and electronics.

Nancy Williamson, of Bryan, O., said she first became directly interested in the endless search for scientific truth because of an eighth grade science teacher who "made the subject come alive for me."

Can an inspirational teacher do this for most students? Carlin says "no." The way it usually happens:

The teacher first detects a glint of enthusiasm in a student and offers more than ordinary encouragement.

"The hidden scientific aptitude - curiosity — must be present," he said, "before an outside force can kindle the spark."

"Conversely," he added, "there are thousands and thousands of scientifically gifted kids walking around who don't know and probably never will know that they have a pronounced talent for science.

"The aptitude is there, but nothing has happened to bring it out of hiding."

She returned to her art interest about a year and a half ago, after her daughters were grown.

His wife, Ethelee, taught vocal music in the Mill Valley schools and appeared frequently as a soloist. He is now attending the Union Theological Seminary and she is teaching music in schools near New York.

MRS. W. J. IRWIN of North Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada, is visiting her son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Irwin of Mill Valley. She was a specially honored guest at Thursday's fashion luncheon of the Mill Valley Eastern Star, for she is a past grand matron of British Columbia.

Physician Says Women Staying Younger Longer

LONDON (UPI) — Many women are staying younger longer.

Science documents the development. A British physician, Dr. J. J. Frommer, reports that menopause is occurring about four years later than it did 100 years ago.

"There may be a link between later menopause and the decreased rate of aging," he said, in a British Medical Journal report.

Dr. Frommer says that the median age of menopause for 443 women who were patients at London's Royal Free Hospital was 50.1 years.

In 1845, menopause occurred at around 45 years of age. In ancient times, Dr. Frommer maintains, it occurred at about 40 years.

The doctor believes that later menopause may be a result of better nutrition and greater knowledge of how to keep healthy.

'Socialist Morality' Fails Among East German Families

By JOSEPH FLEMING

BERLIN (UPI) — "Socialist morality" is failing to keep East German families together.

The rate now is 15 divorces for every 10,000 compared to the West German rate of 8.5 divorces for 10,000 persons.

The Communists take an even dimmer view of lax morality than Western authorities. And in addition to being strait-laced they consider marriage breakups a danger to industrial production.

PREVENTIVE ACTION

To combat divorces the Communists are planning a series of meetings of civic and political leaders to discuss the problem.

A preliminary study based on two East Berlin boroughs showed most couples getting divorced are under 25 years old.

An investigation of their background disclosed a remarkable fact—85 per cent of all children of the couples under 25 were born out of wedlock.

It also was noted that most of the young people had known each other before marriage only a few weeks. It was a rare couple that had been going together more than six months.

This led to a conclusion that marriages are breaking up because young people rush into them.

OTHER REASONS

Other reasons given were excessive drinking, bad housing and "inadequate understanding on the part of the husband for the wife's occupational wishes."

By the latter, the Communists mean that some marriages break up because working wives have too little time for their homes, husbands and children.

In East Germany that might well be the most important reason for divorce because of the great number of women working.

Women are under great pressure to work because there is a labor shortage and they outnumber men. The latest East German census has just disclosed that 54 per cent of East Germany's 17,011,931 people are women. There are 119 women for every 100 men.

Seventy per cent of women able to work do so.

The young couple will reside in Novato following a brief honeymoon.

Marin Adult Dance Schedules Classes

The Marin Adult Dance cooperative will begin its spring series of classes on Thursday. The classes are taught by A. A. Leath, who is educational director of the San Francisco Dancers Workshop.

Classes will be held at the Carpenter's Hall, Lindaro Street, San Rafael, Thursday mornings from 10 to 11:30, April 1 through May 27. For information contact Mrs. Cary A. James. Mill Valley.

Clean Lamps

Lamps will give better light if they are included in the housecleaning routine. A soft cloth should be used to wipe the bulb and reflector bowl. A film of dust can cut light out-put by 50 per cent.

Memory Dialer

A desk unit that does away with the need to dial frequently called numbers is new. The dialer unit holds either 400 or 1,000 telephone numbers. Names and numbers are written on a revolving index, then transferred to a memory tape. To make a call, locate the number on the index, push the call button, and the unit does the rest.

Pocahontas Council To Hold Reception

William E. Farrenkopf of Kentfield will be honored on April 7 by the Degree of Pocahontas, Matoaka Council 18 of the Improved Order of Redmen, at an 1:30 p.m. reception in Temple House, San Francisco. Farrenkopf is a past Great Incohonee of the order, top national office of the organization.

Participating in the degree work to acquaint candidates with this 200-year-old fraternal order will be Virginia Satariano of Mill Valley. Present will be John Miniaci, great trustees of the order for the State of California, and Mrs. Miniaci, also of Mill Valley.

'Sunday-Best'

A boy in his "Sunday-best" suit inevitably shows his "Sunday-best" manners, says Ron Postal of the National Council of Men's Fashions. His posture improves, his attitude of respect begins to grow and it is the rare occasion when he receives compliments on his appearance.

Watery Apples

Apples have a high natural water content. They should be cooked with only enough water to prevent sticking or scorching. Otherwise, they will lose their form and become too soft.

Players Need More Restful Advice About Bridge Game

"What this country needs is less advice," my friend, Charlie Lederer, complained after the play of today's hand.

"Bridge writers should let people sit still instead of telling them to be active."

Opening lead — ♣ A

When this hand was played recently at Lederer's house in Beverly Hills the bidding was too ambitious. Some experts would bid only one spade at South's first turn or would decline the eventual slam invitation.

STOP SHORT

If North had bid five diamonds rather than five spades, South would stop short of slam.

But South did get to slam, and Lederer led the ace of clubs from the West hand. Now the defenders were sure to take the setting trick with the ace of hearts if they just sat still.

West continued with the queen of clubs, hoping his partner would ruff. Declarer discarded a heart on the king of clubs and led a low club from dummy.

AN OVERDOSE

This is where East fell victim to an overdose of advice. Remembering vaguely something he had read about promoting a trump trick for partner, East ruffed with the eight of spades.

This overactive play cost him 1,530 points.

Declarer, screen writer-director Billy Wilder, over-ruffed and led a trump to dummy's king.

NINE DROPPED

When the nine of spades dropped, Wilder had an extra entry to dummy. He ruffed another club and got back to dummy with the seven of spades to discard the rest of his hearts on two good clubs and the top diamonds.

"Your bridge columns are perfect," Wilder told me. "They give people the notion they ought to do something even though they don't know exactly what. That's the way I like it." He paused for a moment and suggested: "Just say how I played the hand if you write this up. Don't mention the bidding."

What this country needs is less advice.

What do you say?

Answer: Bid one spade.

The hand is not strong enough for an opening bid of two spades, but is too strong for a shutout bid. Open normally and see what you can find out from your partner.

SIR BAGBY

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, March 29, the 88th day of 1965 with 277 to follow.

The moon is approaching its new phase. The morning star is Mars. The evening stars are Mars, Jupiter and Mercury.

John Tyler, the 10th President of the United States, was born on this day in 1790.

On this day in history:

In 1847, Gen. Winfield Scott captured Vera Cruz, Mexico.

In 1867, the Dominion of Canada was created by the Act of Confederation passed by the British Parliament.

In 1927, the first land vehicle to exceed the speed of 200 miles per hour — an automobile — reached that milestone at Daytona Beach, Fla.

A thought for the day — American author Henry Thoreau said: "That man is richest whose pleasures are cheapest."

Clothespins Aid In Spelling

By ELLEN BRY and ROBERT M. COPPOCK

Have trouble with your spelling? Go buy some clothesline, clothespins and a drum.

That was the advice a Reed School teacher, Betty Symmes, recently gave a communications class at College of Marin. She then showed that experimental machines also may make learning easier.

Mrs. Symmes attended the class because one of its students had been attending her special early morning cram session for sixth graders. The college student's brother was in the sixth grade, and both brothers needed help with spelling.

The rope and clothespins are for a device for learning in leisure time.

The clothesline is to be strung above the student's bed, with difficult words printed on file cards pinned to the line. The words will be the first things seen in the morning and the last seen at night.

In the morning, Mrs. Symmes suggested, lie in bed about five minutes concentrating on the words. Do the same 10 minutes before going to sleep.

The method will work not just for spelling, but for many memorization problems, such as dates for a history course or names of bones for a physiology class.

The drum is for rhythm learning, and is designed mainly for people who learn through their ears better than through their eyes.

Mrs. Symmes started using the drum as a teaching gadget when one of her young sons, an avid drummer, was having trouble with his spelling. Mrs. Symmes borrowed his drum and started spelling words with him, using the drum for rhythm, a tap for each letter.

"If you approach a teen-ager with a rock and roll beat, you're in," said Mrs. Symmes.

At Reed School once a week a handful of students in the sixth grade, plus the one college student, gather in her room before school. To the tapping of the drum they spell out words in unison, while looking at them in a book.

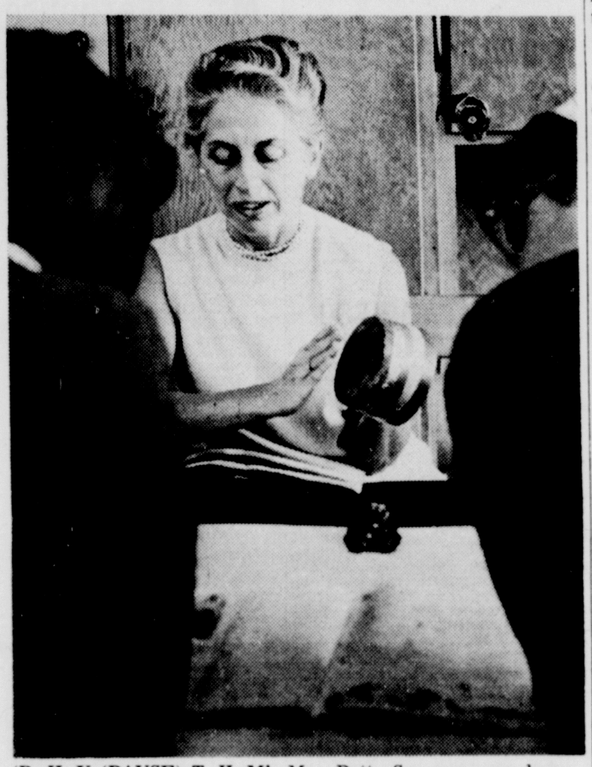

When it comes to individual drill, students who are stumped seem to be able to pick up again by remembering the rhythm of the word.

Students who were doing poorly are now making 80 to 90 per cent scores in tests, she said. "It makes them feel special, because they are special. They're working and trying."

The school district also has been trying out a new machine called the "Language Master," a device with flash cards with magnetic tape along one edge.

When the card is slid through a slot, the machine speaks what is written on the card. Teachers may prepare their own cards and there is a separate sound track for students to use.

The device was designed mainly for foreign language instruction, but Mrs. Symmes said it helps with spelling, mainly again for those who learn best by ear.

'R, H, Y (PAUSE) T, H, M'—Mrs. Betty Symmes uses drum to tap out rhythm of word in corrective spelling class at Reed School. Other "gadgets" she uses to help teach spelling include clothesline and clothespins—for learning at home, in bed. (Independent-Journal photo)

As with the drum, rhythm is used. "Rhythm" is a word which always used to give Mrs. Symmes trouble, she said, until she learned to say, "r, h, y, (pause) t, h, m."

"This is my crusade," Mrs. Symmes said, reviewing her work. "If I could have every teacher set aside up to 40 minutes a week and do this type of work, we could alleviate the spelling problem."

U.S. Timber Shortage Looms

By WILL LEPOWSKI
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — America's forest industry appears headed for hard times by the year 2000.

Stands of big hardwoods like oak and maple and tall evergreens such as Douglas fir and ponderosa pine will be memories in 35 years. Only smaller growths of these trees will be left.

The pulp and paper industry will escape the scarcity, as will other industries that rely on chips and shavings for their products. But their days of abundance will be numbered, too, because the nation's total supply of timber will be dropping.

Manufacturers of fine furniture, high grade plywood, and thick construction timbers may be relying almost totally on foreign markets to meet their needs.

This is the picture that emerges from a report just issued by the U.S. Forest Service. Though timber growth is exceeding cut wood by about five billion cubic feet today, by the year 2000 lumbermen will be cutting trees faster than the forests can replace them.

Only advances in management and utilization of forests will slow the rate of deficit, the report says.

The Pacific Coast states lead the country in timber production, with 55 per cent of the market today. But as the century nears its end, the South is expected to gain the leadership. States such as Alabama, Mississippi, and Tennessee are fast developing exploitable softwood sources through conversion of croplands to forests.

Woods cover about a third of the United States today, definitely a lot of timber but this is deceiving, says the report, because most of the forestland is either hard to get to or is reserved for wilderness or recreation.

Furthermore, pressure on the land is going to increase as population booms and people seek second homes in the woods.

Forest Service chief Edward P. Cliff said the biggest job ahead is to grow more trees on less land. Sixty per cent of commercial forest land is owned by small operators and they must be taught proper management.

The forest service said these measures could improve timber yields:

1. Cutting away vegetation that hinders the full growth of economically valuable trees.

2. Planting or seeding of productive sites. More than 100 million acres of commercial forest land is either non-stocked or poorly stocked.

3. Increased protection from fire, insects, disease, and other destructive agents.

4. Integration of cutting and manufacturing processes.

5. Better roads, especially in the Rocky Mountains.

Despite the sober outlook, Cliff said it reflects the happiest state of affairs in American forestry in years. Ten years ago lumbermen were felling more trees than were growing.

"But as a result of intensified forest fire control, tree planting, and other measures over the past 20 years, annual timber growth now exceeds the cut."

Here is the region-by-region rundown of the timber picture as seen by the forest service:

PACIFIC COAST: 14 per cent of all commercial forest land in the country; supplies 47 per cent of Nation's sawtimber. This lead will be reduced as the South develops its full potential.

Cutting will rise only by a billion board feet by 2000, "a much smaller increase than has been projected for any other section of the country." Size of trees will continue to decline.

ROCKY MOUNTAINS: 13 per cent of forest area; 8 per cent sawtimber cut. Least developed Region. Needs roads to make most of forest accessible.

SOUTH: 39 per cent of nation's forest land; 32 per cent sawtimber production. "When the western growth reserves have been cut the nation must once again rely heavily upon the south." A major problem: Most commercial area belong to small owners who show little interest in better timber management.

NORTH: 34 per cent total forestland; 13 per cent sawtimber cut. Primarily a hardwood area with extreme diversity. Biggest need is improvement of stands. Need for thinning and removal of cull trees.

Two Loch Lomond Cruisers Burgled

Alden Adolph S. of 308 Devon Drive, San Rafael, complained to police Saturday that a portable television worth about $180 had been stolen from his cabin cruiser, Marlin, berthed at Loch Lomond Marina.

He said the vessel was broken into during the last two weeks by forcing a padlock on the rear cabin door.

A similar theft was reported by Arthur T. Flowers of 536 Wakerobin Lane, Terra Linda. He told police a tachometer, ammeter and foot throttle, worth a total of more than $66, were stolen from a boat moored at Channel Boat Sales, 115 Third Street, San Rafael.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Use of Snuff Linked to Cancer In Mouth, Nose And Sinuses

VAN DELLEN

Snuff contains finely-ground tobacco but for generations was made of other substances that irritated the nose. It produced a good sneeze which was considered the most effective way of cleansing the nose. The peppery product still is used to stimulate the reflex, for example, when a curious youngster has a bean stuck in his nose.

The use of snuff became popular in Britain at the time of the Great Plague (1665). It was regarded as a prophylactic against the disease and useful against unpleasant odors. According to Dr. D. F. N. Harrison of London, snuff-taking was fashionable in England at the end of the 17th Century.

MANY GREAT personages, in cluding Lord Nelson, the duke of Wellington, Disraeli, and Dr. Samuel Johnson refreshed themselves with a pinch of snuff taken from a beautiful and valuable box. George III and his wife, Charlotte (Snuffy Charlotte) were addicted. By this time it was made of tobacco, which had the stimulating properties that made it habit-forming. Regular users did not sneeze.

Some transferred the pinch directly from the snuff box to the nostril; others used a small silver spoon to convey it from the back of the hand to the nose; ultimately it is inhaled. Most Americans place a liberal portion just inside the lower lip (snuff dip).

There is a questionable association between snuff and the development of cancer in the mouth, nose, and sinuses. Dr. Harrison is of the opinion that some of the material finds its way into the sinus when the individual takes a good sniff. He cites the observation that sinus cancer is common among the Bantu tribesmen, who are habitual users. They do not smoke cigarettes and the incidence of lung cancer is low.

SCIENTIFIC PROOF for this contention is lacking because snuff contains substances other than tobacco. It is used all over the world and differs in preparation and constituents. In Thailand it is 50 per cent dry tobacco and 50 per cent oriental gum. Bantu snuff contains various mixtures of more than 20 incinerated herbs and plants. In England it is made from finely ground tobacco leaves and stalk which is cured and perfumed.

SENSITIVITY TO ALCOHOL

A. A. writes: When I drink any alcoholic beverage I have extreme redness of the face, eyes, and arms. My heart and pulse throb. I get chills and nausea. My blood pressure is normal. What causes these symptoms?

REPLY

NO PLACE TO HEDGE

B. Z. writes: Is it all right for a person with a circulatory disorder of the legs to smoke if he does not inhale? He was told to quit smoking.

REPLY

This is no place to hedge. There is no easy way to stop smoking. Will power is required and one puff will make the individual a smoker again.

COFFEE AND THE HEART

T. B. writes: What are the effects of coffee on the human heart?

REPLY

Caffeine may quicken the rate of the pulse and overindulgence may lead to irritability of the heart muscle, resulting in skipped beats.

Turkish Cabinet Sees Land Reform Speedup

As opponents of the recently deposed Inonu cabinet, the four parties now in control had forestalled quick action on the land reform bill proposed by Premier Inonu. But now Premier S. H. Urguplu has pledged an early vote on the measure. He has done so despite the fact that many members of parliament from the four rather conservative parties are landlords with a vested interest in the status quo.

Sources close to the government believe land reform will become law before October's general election.

The turnabout in official attitude is explained by knowledgeable sources here as reflecting a fear among the four party leaders that wiping the land reform project off the political slate would rouse the Army, University and press groups who favored the more dynamic policies of Inonu.

Premier Urguplu, himself a non-controversial and progressive personality, is said to have played a very active part in persuading the coalition to endorse the land reform.

Evidence that the country would not stand for jettisoning the land reform idea was also at hand in the form of peasant demonstrations. Such political activity has never happened before in this country where a basically feudal system still persists in many rural areas.

About 70 per cent of Turkey's population of 30 million lives on farms. Most of the 40,000 village scattered throughout the country have not changed since the days of the Ottoman Empire, and the Aghas — the wealthy landlords—have maintained their political grip on the countryside.

A recent survey shows that 70 per cent of the farm land in Turkey is owned by only a quarter of the farmers. And less than one per cent of them—mostly Aghas—hold nearly 20 per cent of the lands.

Millions of farmers are therefore without land and they work under very hard and primitive conditions for their feudal employers. The lack of any labor legislation for the farm workers enables the Aghas to exploit them.

The projected land reform is primarily aimed at splitting up the large land holdings of the Aghas. The bill provides that no single family may work more than 620 acres of land in arid areas or 31 acres in fertile areas. The rest will be distributed to farm laborers who do not have land. Minimum limits will be 50 acres in arid regions and five acres in fertile regions.

The state will pay for the land taken from the landlords.

Farmers who receive land will pay for it over a period of 25 years.

The second purpose of the land reform is to join together small and uneconomic plots. According to the bill, cooperative farming will be encouraged and farmers will receive credits from the State.

The reform will be started in few pilot areas. Countrywide completion of the program is slated in the bill to take 25 years. Many critics feel that this is too long, and it is possible that anticipated modifications of the bill by the new government will include some changes on this point.

It is expected that the Government will draw attacks from both the Right and Left on this proposed legislation. Reaction from the Aghas has been bitter. They have already protested it and issued statements alleging that the reform will create "dwarf operations" which would be unable to stand on their own feet.

The same concern has been expressed by the Left, which argues that the State should nationalize the land and form cooperatives. The leftists charge that the bill is "very weak" and they advocate total agricultural reform.

TELEVISION REVIEW

30th Anniversary For Amateur Hour

By RICK DUBROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — After a week in which startling new space developments were seen by televiewers, it seems almost touching to note that CBS-TV's venerable relic, "The Original Amateur Hour," marked its 30th anniversary yesterday.

What images such an occasion conjures up! Fledgling tenors giving their heartfelt all to "Trees" and "Without a Song" as though nobody had ever sung them before. And these images were intensified with humor and good nature yesterday as the 30-minute "Amateur Hour" presented highlights of its three-decade history in radio and television with the first half of a two-part documentary. The second half airs this coming Sunday.

Yesterday's offering was, to be sure, only the slightest sort of history of the days when the Amateur Hour was the nation's ranking radio favorite. Still, it is pleasant to think that someone had the foresight at the time to shoot films of the performers, the audience and the original host, Major Bowes, to pass on to future broadcasting aficionados. And sure enough, there was an accordionist, and a singer offering "Without a Song," not to mention a one-man band, and a lady dressed in a harem-type costume who played the violin and tap-danced at the same time.

There were, in addition, recordings of the appearances on the show of some future notables, including Frank Fontaine, Robert Merrill, Teresa Brewer and one Frank Sinatra, who turned up on the Amateur Hour in 1935 as part of a quartet from Hoboken, a group it is good he did not stick with.

There, too, was the major, intoning the ritualistic words known in millions of households across the land: "Around, around she goes — and where she stops nobody knows." If you don't know what these words referred to, it would be a waste of time trying to explain to you.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: Carl Reiner, Mel Brooks, Andy Griffith and Mary Tyler Moore are guests on NBC-TV's final Danny Thomas special of the season April 23. . .Same network's Jonathan Winters special tonight spoofs Hollywood and the movies, with the comedian being assisted by Buster Keaton, Agnes Moorehead and Julie Newmar.

It's That Simple

THE OTHER NIGHT, Harry Truman was cracking away about some important aspects of his administration which were entirely new to me even though I have lived through those days. I asked myself, "Why didn't I know about that at the time?"

Then I realized the answer: "We didn't have television then." It's that simple.

Even in its heyday radio didn't give in-depth treatment of major politics equal to that available today on television newscasts and in documentaries. There was plenty of news, excellent commentators and "March of Time" style broadcasting, but nowhere near the panorama of subject matter as graphically presented on TV.

Harry S. Truman

For example, the "Profiles In Courage" series on NBC Sunday evening (Channel 4 at 6:30 p.m.) is an excellent program. Next week's show deals with the dilemma faced by President Grant over the U. S. stand in the Cuban Rebellion of 1869.

More recent history is examined in a fascinating series titled "Men In Crisis," which repeats its schedule often enough to give everyone a chance, eventually, to see the entire series. Following is a list of historic bouts to be shown on KRON-TV, Wednesdays at 7 p.m. in future weeks:

Hitler vs. Hindenburg (March 10); Windsor vs. The Crown (March 17); Mussolini vs. Selassie (March 24); Khrushchev vs. Nagy (March 31); Lindbergh vs. the Atlantic (April 7); Chamberlain vs. Hitler (April 14); Darrow vs. Bryan (April 21); Byrd vs. Amundsen (April 28); Mao vs. Chiang (May 5); Truman vs. Stalin (May 12); McCarthy vs. Welsh (May 19); Nassar vs. Ben Gurion (May 26); Eisenhower vs. Rommel (June 2); Roosevelt vs. Isolation (June 9); Petain vs. de Gaulle (June 16); Wilson vs. Senate (June 23).
